Slayer of Two Gets Life Term

3 Judges Agree On Verdict

Extend Mercy On Two Counts

Clarence Greer was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Ohio State penitentiary late yesterday by a three-judge court in the slaying of a brother and sister last Feb. 9.

The life sentence came when the judges extended mercy on each of the two counts of first-degree murder.

Greer had entered a plea of guilty and was subject to either the death penalty or to life imprisonment.

The trial opened Wednesday morning and the closing arguments were presented just before noon Thursday.

GREER

The three-judge court included Common Pleas Judges G. E. Kalbfleisch, Clarence U. Ahl of Crawford county and Ralph Sugrue of Seneca county.

VERDICT UNANIMOUS

They returned their unanimous verdict about 5:15 p. m. after having retired to deliberate at about 1 p. m.

Greer was indicted in the double slaying of Mrs. Ella Owens, 31, and her brother, Ezell Taylor, 35, tenants in a house rented by Greer at 203 East Fourth street.

Evidence showed that Greer killed Taylor while he lay in bed at the East Fourth street home, then reloaded the single-barrel 12-gauge shotgun and killed Mrs. Owens, asleep in the adjoining room.

TELLS OF THREAT

He told the court he had overheard Taylor say to Mrs. Owens: "We'll fix him up and make it look like suicide." Greer testified of arguments with the slain pair during a card game.

Greer told the court he had nothing to say, when the judges called him for sentencing. His attorneys, Jacob Wagenhals and H. Eugene Ryan, told the court no appeal would be taken.

The case was handled for the state by Prosecutor Theodore Lutz and Assistant Prosecutor Robert L. Ross.

Sheriff Frank E. Robinson said Greer would be taken to the penitentiary Monday. Committment papers and the journal entry were being prepared today. The law provides that a convicted man must be taken to the penitentiary within five days after sentencing.

Rule Injury Accidental

Investigation of the injury of Mrs. Joseph Bookmeyer, 569 McPherson street, in her home Tuesday afternoon has convinced police she fell downstairs and was not beaten, detectives said today.

Detectives F. Bruce Friday and Howard Schuck questioned Mrs. Bookmyer yesterday at General hospital where she is recovering from face and head bruises and abrasions.

The officers said the physician told them she had been in ill health and had suffered fainting spells.

Shortly after she was found in her home Tuesday afternoon she told an incoherent story of a man entering her home and beating her, police said.

European Arms Plea Denied

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The White House flatly denied today that President Truman is planning to ask Congress for limited shipments of arms to western European nations.

"The answer is categorically no," White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told a news conference in reply to questions about the plan which had been reported by high congressional sources.

He was asked if Mr. Truman intended to send a message to Congress to permit arms shipments.

"No such action is in contemplation," Ross said. "There will be no message to Congress next week."

In reply to other questions concerning arms for the European "western union" countries, Ross said "the President knows nothing about it except what he has read in the newspapers."

High congressional sources had expected the President to present "a plan for arms shipments in a message to Congress Monday or Tuesday.

Senate President Arthur H. Vandenberg has conferred twice with Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett on such a proposal.

The shipments, these sources had said, would act as "military insurance" against communist aggression. The plan was reportedly designed to back up 51-month program for European recovery.

Atom Limit Faces Veto

WASHINGTON— (AP) —President Truman is reported today to have told Democratic lawmakers he will veto any Republican attempt to limit the jobs of atomic energy commissioners to two years or less.

These legislators said Mr. Truman i sready — if necessary — to make a campaign issue of his fight for a full five-year term for Chairman David E. Lilienthal. Other members were named, by what the President said was agreement among themselves, for four, three, two and one year terms.

Democratic leaders are said to feel they may be able to make campaign capital out of accusing the GOP of political tampering with the atomic setup.

But Capitol Hill Republicans quickly pooh-poohed Mr. Truman's statement that unless the appointment schedule is carried out a "pall of uncertainty" will fall over atomic activities.

Senator Brewster (R-Me.) told a reporter he hopes the President wasn't injecting politics into the matter himself.

Plan Action To Save Ship

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A nationwide drive is being planned to raise $1,000,000 to restore the famous old fighting ship Constellation.

A group of high navy officers and prominent citizens met today—the 150th birthday of the navy—to work out details of the fund-raising campaign.

The famed frigate's sister, the Constitution, was restored 20 years ago through penny contributions by the nation's school children. At present the Constellation, which was launched in Baltimore in 1797, is tied up at Boston.

Ohio Atomic Show Opens

MIAMISBURG — (AP) — The three-day Miami valley atomic energy show, featuring A-B-C explanations of the atom, opened Thursday.

Sixty scientists were on hand to answer questions and run experiments for an exhibition billed as the biggest, most comprehensive and most understandable of its kind ever held.

About 10,000 persons are expected.

800 Measles Cases Noted

Outbreak Worst Here In Four Years

The worst outbreak of measles in Mansfield since 1944 continued today to cut attendance in schools.

The city board of health said nearly 800 cases had been reported so far this year in the city alone. Five hundred of the reported cases were noted during April.

In addition, up to last Saturday the health department had counted 270 reported cases of measles in Richland county outside of Mansfield.

Health officials emphasized that the actual number of cases probably was much higher since a great number are not reported.

The effect of the outbreak on school attendance seemed indicated by the attendance report of the superintendent of schools. It showed that for the period Feb. 23 to March 19 attendance dropped from 91.24 per cent to 87.99.

This report, however, was made before the upswing in reported cases during April.

The Mansfield epidemic is not singular. Similar outbreaks have been received from all over the country. Chicago has reported the largest measles incident rate in more than a decade.

Outbreaks of measles run in three or four year cycles. The last bad epidemic here occurred in 1944, when 1,157 cases were reported during the year. The next year, only 15 cases were reported. In 1946, 30 cases were reported and last year 143.

CAPITAL TIME CHANGES

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The nation's capital will go on daylight saving time at 2 p. m. Sunday.

Smile Signals Success

Boy, 10, Fights Back From 2-Week Sleep

By NITA BRANSON

Ten-year-old Ralph Snyder smiled bravely from his General hospital bed today.

That smile brought hope and elation to his parents, his doctors and his nurses. It signaled success in Ralph's two-week struggles to awaken from the rare disease, measles-encephalitis.

Yesterday noon, for the first time in almost two weeks, Ralph was able to sit propped up in his bed at General hospital and eat a fairly good meal.

For almost the entire two weeks, he has lain in a state of intermittent coma with only brief moments of lucidness when he could recognize his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Snyder, 419 South Main street.

"Two weeks ago when Ralph got the measles," Mrs. Snyder recalls, "we thought it was the usual childhood disease. Then suddenly, unexpected complications set in and the doctors said he had 'sleeping sickness'."

Ralph still wasn't entirely out of danger today but his physicians reported he was "progressing satisfactorily."

SYMPTOMS SAME

Measles-encephelitis is somewhat different from the tropical sleeping sickness, but the symptoms are about the same. It is treated "symptomatically," or, as one of the doctors put it, "we let nature take its course."

As in any form of sleeping sickness, Ralph's case was marked by drowsiness and a stiff neck with laboratory findings substantiating the doctor's claim.

One of the two doctors in attendance said he had never treated a similar case although he had seen it in Columbus while in training. The other recalled two such cases during his training period.

While measles-encephalitis is not particularly contagious, say the doctors, it might be critical for any adult who has not had the measles.

The parents' joy at the improvement Ralph has shown was shared by classmates at Grace Gospel church. Each Friday night, while he has been ill, the class has taken time to pray for his recovery.

"Ralph liked that little class so much," Mrs. Snyder said. He hasn't missed a meeting I think in three years. And he'll certainly be glad to be well again so he may return for class sessions."

Dairy Cuts Milk Price

A one-cent reduction in the price of milk possibly a forerunner of price cuts in Mansfield and other nearby communities — was announced today by the Lofland Dairy company, Plymouth.

Lofland Dairy reduced the price of regular milk to 19 cents a quart and homogenized milk to 20 cents, effective Saturday.

Mansfield dairies said today they had nothing to announce on price cuts but hinted milk might drop soon with the increase in production as the result of a rapid growth of pastures.

Band, Orchestra Play to Small Audience

First Concert Adds Only $100 to Fund

The Mansfield Senior high Tyger band and orchestra played to fewer than 200 persons last night, adding only $100 to the band fund. There will be another concert at 8 p. m. today in the Senior high auditorium.

The poor response last night dimmed the hopes of the Band Parents' club of raising the $1,500 needed to maintain the band this year. The club had planned to do away with the annual "Tag Day" campaign if sufficient funds were raised at the two concerts.

Pupils today were busy selling tickets in the downtown area, hoping to boost attendance at tonight's concert.

Tickets for this evening's concert are available from band members, Band Parents' club members and directors of the Tyger Booster club, as well as at Tawse's Pharmacy, Hunt's News depot and Sam Fox's Jewelry store.

STARTS WITH 'BANG'

Despite the small audience, the concert last night literally started with a bang when some boys threw a large firecracker into the outside lobby of the auditorium. The noise, however, failed to interrupt the number the orchestra was playing.

The band and orchestra, directed by J. Merton Holcombe, presented an entertaining program of modern and classical selections last night.

Included were such featured numbers as "Saxaphobia," a saxophone solo by Dick Butts; "Ol' Man River," trombone solo by Charles Green; "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now," vocal number by Jean Robinson; "Piano Classics and Boogie" by Marilyn Joyce Teeter and a ballet kick number by Geraldine Ann Glasscock.

Bandsman Thomas Pankow pleased the audience with a bass horn solo, "Rocked In the Cradle of the Deep."

Johnny Appleseed junior high school bandsmen will present their annual concert in the school auditorium at 8 p. m. today. Miss Jean Worley, music instructor at the school, will be in charge.

Railroad Mediator Gloomy

Fails to End Strike Threat

CHICAGO—(AP)—Mediator Frank Douglass said today if the threatened railroad strike is averted, only direct negotiations between management and labor will do it.

"There doesn't seem to be any feeling for arbitration of the disputed issues," the chairman of the national (railway) mediation board said as he went into his first conference with management spokesmen.

"If this strike is to be settled," he stated, "it must be by direct negotiation by the parties."

Douglass and Francis A. O'Neill jr., a board member, met twice yesterday with leaders of three brotherhoods who have set May 11 for a paralyzing, nationwide walkout. Today they heard the railroads' side of the dispute from the carriers conference committee. This group represents the eastern, western and southeastern segments of the industry.

Although Douglass expressed hope of settlement before May 11, statements from two brotherhood presidents were on the gloomy side.

Steel Price Going Down

Change Benefits Many Products

PITTSBURGH—(UP)—Prices on a wide range of U.S. Steel corporation products, including steel used in automobiles and home appliances, drop $10 to $5 a ton tomorrow.

The specific price cuts came one week after the corporation, traditional "bellwether" of the industry, announced its $25,000,000 anti-inflation price slashing "experiment."

In detailing the move, Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the corporation, reported elimination of the long-standing $3 price differential on products at its Geneva, Utah, plant over similar products by its mills in the east and midwest.

The cut in differentials, he said, marked the first time in the history of the steel industry that prices in eastern and far-western mills were at a parity.

Fairless said that revisions of stainless steel prices also are under consideration, and will be announced in the near future.

The new cuts will affect such items as nails, fencing, roofing steel, tin plate for cans, types for automobiles and home appliances, structural steel, and a number of others.

Area Gets Light Frost

Light frost touched vegetation in the Mansfield area today as the mercury dropped to 37, but fruit trees and gardens were not believed damaged.

The sun had pushed the temperature up to 57 at noon today to equal yesterday's high.

Scattered light frost was seen possible tonight with the cool weather continuing through tomorrow afternoon. Showers were forecast for Saturday night.

The weather bureau's five-day outlook follows:

"Temperatures will average near normal, from normal maximum 60-65 to normal minimum 41-44. Warmer Sunday, cooler Monday. Precipitation will average one-half inch, occurring as showers Sunday and again Wednesday."

SUSPENDS INQUIRY

COLUMBUS — (AP) — The Franklin county grand jury suspended its inquiry into reports of shakedowns of liquor permit applicants yesterday until May 10. Prosecutor Ralph J. Bartlett said no further subpenae have been issued.

Balloons Might End Trip In Ohio

CHICAGO — (AP) — Twenty-one balloons carrying cosmic ray detection apparatus were released today by the University of Chicago.

They expand as they rise and are expected to burst when they are about 10 times their normal size. The physics department of the university estimated they will come down in Indiana, Michigan or Ohio.

The finder is requested to return the black box containing the equipment to the university. It includes photographic plates which will record conditions in the stratosphere.

Lewis Calls For Action On Contract

Sets Meeting Date May 18

WASHINGTON— (AP) —John L. Lewis today asked soft coal operators to meet with him May 18 to negotiate a new contract.

The United Mine Workers' present contract expires June 30.

Lewis said in letters to all coal companies and associations which had signed the current agreement last July that he is ready to start negotiations in the Shoreham hotel, Washington, May 18, at 10 a. m.

He said the meeting would be "for the purpose of negotiating a successor contract" to the present one.

The UMW chief pointed out that the present contract pledges the parties to attend any conferences under terms of the agreement.

The letter was labeled "notice" and was dated today, April 30. The Taft-Hartley act requires that either party to a labor agreement, desiring to end that agreement, must give notice 60 days before ending the contract.

Lewis apparently was observing that provision, since his contract with the operators expires June 30.

There was no advance indication directly from Lewis on the nature of the demands he would make of the operators for the new contract.

Still outstanding is a dispute over payment of pensions from a welfare fund provided in the present contract.

Lewis wants $100 a month pensions for all elderly members of the United Mine Workers.

As trustees of the welfare fund, he and Senator Styles Bridges (R.-N. H.) have agreed on $100 pensions for miners aged 62 with 20 years service. Ezra Van Horn, the third trustee and representative of the operators, has filed a suit to keep the Lewis-Bridges plan from going into effect.

New Signs Welcome Safe Drivers to City

The first of 12 signs reading "Mansfield Welcomes Safe Drivers," to be erected on major highways entering the city, was placed on Lexington avenue today.

Harry Dailey, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Safety committee, said the metal, black and white signs, 42 inches wide and 36 high, were bought by the C. of C.

"The city street department will put up one sign on each of the 12 incoming highways," Dailey explained, as part of the Chamber's effort to reduce accidents in the city.

High Court Hears Gavel

WASHINGTON —(UP)— Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson, who seldom uses his gavel, rapped it sharply to restore order during supreme court debate over the Taft-Hartley act.

Associate Justice Felix Frankfurter touched off one of the noisiest rows ever heard in the chamber yesterday when he suggested that the CIO and the government had made a deal to force a quick ruling by the high court.

Up jumped Government Prosecutor Jesse Climenko to protest.

"Your time has expired," Vinson told him, three times.

Pale and quivering Climenko shrugged and sat down.

The government attorney was appealing a lower court ruling which held unconstitutional the Taft-Hartley ban on political spending by labor unions. Frankfurter expressed the belief that the normal legal procedure had been by-passed to bring the case before the high court.

Jewish Militia Gaining

Acts Swiftly Against Arabs

JERUSALEM — (UP) — The showdown battle of Jerusalem blazed up today, and the Jewish militia Haganah scored sharp successes in the first round.

Haganah forces seized the Jerusalem general postoffice building, which controls the center of the city. They forced the Arab defenders of the Katamon quarter to sue for a truce to evacuate their dead and wounded after bloody fighting throughout the night.

Still other Jewish and Arab forces were locked in battle around the Mah Millah cemetery in the heart of the city, and the Jews struck in force against an Arab stronghold on Mt. Zion.

The Jews claimed to have seized control of the telephone exchange, the last department of the postal service still working in Jerusalem. The other services had broken down as most of the British pulled out of the city and left it to the warring Jews and Arabs.

The outbreak of fighting at the scattered strategic quarters of Jerusalem convinced most of the jittery population that this was the long awaited fight for the richest prize in the war of Palestine.

TALK OF TRUCE FADES

Talk of a truce was lost in the din of battle.

The first big victory went to the Jews when after a night of bloody fighting for the Katamon area of Southwest Palestine the Arabs at midday sued for a truce.

An official announcement of the Arab request said they made it in order to take their dead and wounded from the field.

The Katamon quarter is an important section overlooking the Hebron road to the south, the railroad to Jaffa and the water pipeline that supplies the Holy city.

Haganah troops also launched a major attack against Mount Zion, an Arab stronghold overlooking the southwest section of the old walled city, but the attack was broken up at dawn by British mortars.

The battle for Jerusalem flared up as British, Arabs and Jews met to determine the fate of Jaffa, where the guns were quieted by a 17-hour truce last night.

British authorities said they were eager to reach an agreement under which the last British troops in Jaffa could be removed quickly to the British evacuation port of Haifa.

Authorities in Haifa announced that British military responsibility for Palestine will be withdrawn within a narrow Haifa evacuation strip before May 15.

This will leave Jaffa, Jerusalem and other major cities in Palestine at the mercy of warring factions and in danger of an invasion by the regular armies of surrounding Arab states.

Latest reliable reports said leading figures of the Arab world would meet in Amman, capital of Trans-Jordan, today to plot future Arab strategy.

Auto Strike Set May 12

DETROIT—(AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers today scheduled a strike May 12 of 75,000 employes of Chrysler corporation.

The walkout, if called, would be the first on a large scale in the auto industry since the costly 113-day General Motors corporation strike of 1945-46.

The UAW-CIO asks for a 30 cent an hour wage boost.

Affected would be 18 Chrysler plants, 14 in Michigan, three in Indiana and one in California.

The union's top policy committee approved the strike deadline on recommendation of its national Chrysler director, Norman Matthews. He said the company could meet union wage demands without raising car prices and still make a profit "any business man would envy."

The UAW-CIO will continue negotiation with Chrysler until the strike date, he added.

Shreve Again Heads C. of C.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States Chamber of Commerce today began its second year under the leadership of Earl O. Shreve, vice president of General Electric company, New York.

Shreve was reelected president of the nation's largest business organization as 2,200 delegates closed their 36th annual meeting last night.

Boudreau's Four Bingles Pace Attack

ST. LOUIS —(INS)— The Cleveland Indians sported a comfortable-feeling six-game win-streak today as they went after a clean sweep of their first western swing of the infant American league campaign.

The two previous days of rainy weather failed to dampen the Tribe's bats as Cleveland battered the St. Louis Browns, 5-2, under a 13-hit barrage yesterday.

The Indians continued to be the only undefeated team in the major leagues and now have taken 18 of their last 23 starts against the hapless Brownies.

Bob Lemon

Manager Lou Boudreau paved the way with four hits, including a fifth-inning home run, to give Bob Lemon his second win of the young season. Eddie Robinson and Lemon, himself, followed Boudreau in the hit-parade with two bingles apiece.

It didn't take the Tribe long to show the Browns they should have "stood in bed."

Cleveland jumped to a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Boudreau's ringing double down the left field foul line scored Thurman Tucker. The Cleveland centerfielder had started the inning with a single.

The Browns tied it up in the fourth, but Boudreau put the Indians ahead to stay in the fifth with his circuit clout, Cleveland's 13th so far this year.

THREE RUN SEVENTH

The Tribesmen really sewed things up with a three-run uprising in the seventh. Lemon led off with a single, but was forced by Tucker. Larry Doby knocked in Tucker with a double to left, his first of the season. Doby scored on Boudreau's single, his fourth straight hit of the day, and Manager Lou took second on an error and crossed the plate a few moments later as Robinson rifled a single to right-center field.

Lemon eased up in the seventh with his four-run lead and the Browns succeeding in pushing across one run.

FELLER TODAY

Today Boudreau was to send his ace fireballer, Bob Feller, to the mound in quest of his third victory. If Cleveland wins, which seemed almost a certainty, the Indians will come home tomorrow with an unblemished record.

The Indians meet the Detroit Tigers in a two-game series over the week end in Cleveland before heading east.

Gregorio Bats, Hurls Tygers To 3-0 Conquest of Willard

By CHARLEY STINE

The result was the same as in their three previous games—a victory for the Tygers—but the method was something entirely new.

Coach Jimmy Lymper's Senior high baseball team broke out of its mythical paper bag yesterday with seven solid base hits to win its fourth game of the season, 3-0, over Willard. One of the hits was a home run by Shelly Swank which sailed far over the newly erected fence around Blue Goose diamond.

Swank's four-master, a mighty blow over the right field boards in the sixth inning was really an anti-climax. Lou Gregorio, the Tygers' short, dark and handsome hurler had already sewed things up all by himself.

SENDS HOME FIRST

Gregorio batted in the locals' first and only run needed with a double to left-center in the fourth inning. He then added a single in the sixth frame for good measure.

On the mound he kept the visitors' five hits well scattered and was in trouble in only one frame, the third. A single and a hit batsman put the first two men on and the next hit back to the box. Gregorio threw to third to attempt a force but the play came up sour as all hands were safe.

He settled down then, however, and forced the next man to hit in the same place. Lou turned this one into a double play with the aid of Catcher Joe Miller and First Baseman Don Gross. Thornton, Willard catcher, and cleanup man, grounded out to end the inning.

LOU WHIFFS NINE

Gregorio fanned nine and did not issue a single base on balls as he hung up his second victory of the season. He has started all four of the Tyger games but this was the first time he was around for the finish. Shelly Swank had finished up all the previous encounters and received credit for two of the victories.

Mansfield's biggest rally of the season—four hits—came in the third inning and was touched off when Charles Marchant beat out a bunt. Gregorio followed with his double and after Corky Perrine grounded out, Shelly Swank and Sparky Watts dropped singles into center field to add another run. Joe Miller, Bengal cleanup man, clouted a mighty swat to right field but into the waiting arms of the Willard gardener who by the this time was playing almost against the fence.

LOU GREGORIO, TYGER ACE . . . WARMS UP

THREE DAYS' REST

Lymper's men have three days' rest before their game under the lights at Marion at 8 p. m. Monday. Drawings for the district baseball tournament will be held Sunday afternoon at Senior high and unless they have some very bad luck, the Tygers should have little trouble in the joust.

Only four other teams, Ashland, Bucyrus, Willard and Galion will compete. The Tygers have now taken the measure of two of them, having beaten Ashland in the season opener. Starting date of the tournament is not definite but it must be completed by May 15.

Plymouth High Hurler Gets No-Hitter

Cornelius Vanderbilt, Plymouth high school's all-round athlete turned in the first no-hit game of the season in this area when he blanked the Lucas high team, 3-0, yesterday on the Plymouth diamond.

Vanderbilt gave warning that he will cut a fancy figure in the coming district tournament by striking out 14 visiting batters while walking five. One man reached third base in the fourth inning but was picked off.

Ronald Trauger and Bob Schreck led Plymouth with two hits apiece. Line score:

Piles Are Never "Mild"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, billiousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief—written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

300 Lads From 15 Schools Listed In Newark Relays

NEWARK —Some of the best track and field athletes in Ohio will be in the field of 300 high school lads who will compete in the ninth annual Newark relays here tomorrow.

Preliminary events will get started at 10 a. m. with the finals down for 2 p. m. Fifteen schools, including the defending championship Springfield team, will be in the field.

Springfield is the popular mid-season choice to win the Ohio Class A track title. The Wildcats have copped victories in the Mansfield and Ohio Wesleyan Relays. The biggest opposition will come from Columbus Central and Mansfield Senior high school.

WIN MAJOR TITLE

Senior high won the only other major relays completed this season. The Tygers copped the Uhrichsville event after faltering to 15th place in their own cinderpath carnival. Columbus Central tied for second in the Mansfield Relays and tied for third in the Ohio Wesleyan competition.

The complete field follows: Springfield, Mansfield Senior high, Columbus Central, Marietta, Columbus East, Bexley, Columbus Linden McKinley, Ashland, Columbus West, Upper Arlington, Lancaster, Mt. Vernon, McConnellsville and Newark.

In addition to the three headliners, Ashland, Mt. Vernon and Newark placed in the Mansfield Relays.

TROPHY LIST

Approximately $500 in trophies will be awarded the competing teams. Fifteen trophies will go to the schools with the first three individuals in each race getting medals. The fourth and fifth placers will get ribbons.

Mansfield Coach Harry Mehock will take a squad of 19 performers to the Newark thinclad festival. The list includes: Burt Lindsay, Tom Tucker and the medley team, all victors in the Uhrichsville competition.

Lindsay set an all-time Tyger mark in winning the discus while Tucker nabbed the broad jump and tied for first in the 220.

★

Five members of the Tyger squad were listed to compete in the Cleveland West Tech relays today.

Louis, Aides Go to Remote Training Site

CHICAGO—(INS)—Joe Louis and his ample entourage are getting ready for the last big push—the champ's last training stretch for his last title defense—which starts Saturday at Great Bear lake in Michigan.

Great Bear lake is little more than 100 miles from Chicago as the bear walks, and it is reportedly one of the most secluded spots in the nation.

It is there, in the cold dawn of Saturday morn, that the world's heavyweight titlist is to begin serious preparatory operations for his June 23 stand against Jersey Joe Walcott.

RUNS TWO SIXES

Louis will run six miles in the morning, chop wood, hike, row boats, and run six miles in the evening.

It was murmured that, from all reports, Louis is seriously overweight.

Pinned for a statement, Mannie Seamon, who has been Louis' trainer ever since the postwar Billy Conn fight, declared:

"Yes, Joe's overweight. But he'd be down to 'fine' and go stale if he didn't have some weight to take off in the next seven and a half weeks."

Louis plans to run his conditioning routine at Great Bear lake until May 17, when he will move his camp to Pompton Lakes, N. J., his favorite pre-fight haunt.

Sis DeWeese Fires 498 In Dominion Loop

Golfers Win Second

WESTERVILLE —(UP)— Otterbein's golf team scored its second straight victory yesterday with a 10½ to 1½ win against Heidelberg.

Sons of Herman Golfers Paced By Nick Loris

A two over par 36 by Nick Loris paced the Sons of Herman golf league in its second week of play last night at Coolridge.

Steve Stirtzinger was close behind with a 37 while Joe Frisch, Dick Gaubautz and Joe Kasper shot 39's. The Presidents won all five matches from Membership to take over the league lead with eight points.

Other standings are: Trustees 5½, Treasurers 5½, Janitors 5½, Bartenders 5, Guards 4½, Managers 4, Membership 2.

New York Yankees Refuse to Let Tribe Build Lead; DiMaggio Breaks Up Game With Nats In Tenth Frame

By CARL LUNDQUIST

NEW YORK —(UP)— No one talks much about the world champion New York Yankees these days, but thanks to a couple of pros named Joen they're doing very nicely, folks.

Today they rode a four-game winning streak and from their second place position in the standings seemed ready to challenge the still unbeaten Cleveland Indians, all because Joe DiMaggio and Joe Page are back in the groove that led the Yankees to the 1947 pennant and world title.

DiMaggio, whom Manager Bucky Harris affectionately and appropriately calls "the big guy," broke up a 10-inning, 5 to 4, ball game with the Senators at Yankee stadium yesterday, hitting a long fly with the bases loaded, to send home Bobby Brown. There's nothing new about that. It isn't always a spectacular hit, but in one way or another Big Joe usually delivers. In the eight games the Yankees have played thus far he has gotten at least one hit in each and leads the club in runs driven in with seven. Last Sunday in a similarly climactic situation he smashed a three-run-homer against the Red Sox.

Page got credit yesterday for his first victory of the campaign by pitching hitless ball for four innings, but Manager Harris can tell you that there are at least two other games that the Yankees wouldn't have won, had he not come to the rescue. It was his fourth relief appearance in five games and in each he has been brilliant. Until DiMaggio broke it up in the 10th homers by George McQuinn, Charley Keller, and Larry Berra kept the Yankees in the ball game.

The incredible Indians, still 148 games short of a perfect season, nevertheless breezed to victory number six behind the steady pitching of Bob Lemon, who scatted eight hits in a 5 to 2 triumph over the Browns at St. Louis. It was Lemon's second win and he was ably supported by Manager Lon Boudreau who got a homer, double and two singles and batted in three runs. Les Moss hit a St. Louis homer.

Home runs also paid off for the Red Sox with Ted Williams, Sam Mele, Joe Dobson, and Murrell Jones hitting for the route in an 11 to 5 triumph over the Athletics at Philadelphia. Dobson, after two defeats, chalked up victory number one, but he couldn't get Elmer Valo out. Valo got four hits including a double and a homer and Buddy Rosar also homered for the A's.

The White Sox handed the Tigers their sixth defeat in seven games, 5 to 4 at Detroit.

The Reds topped the Cards, 5 to 4 in the 14th at Cincinnati when Rookie Hank Sauer, who had tied the score with a homer in the eighth, broke up the game with a run-scoring single. It was Sauer's fifth homer, giving him the National League lead.

The Dodgers made 20 hits in a 17 to 7 rout of the Giants which ended a three-game Brooklyn losing streak and a six game New York victory string.

Harry Walker's three-run inside-the-park homer which followed a pair of singles, ruined Pitcher Johnny Beazley's pitching comeback at Boston as the Phils topped the Braves, 4 to 2.

Elmer Riddle scored his second straight success after four seasons of chronic arm trouble, hurling the Pirates to a seven-hit, 4 to 2 victory over the Cubs at Chicago. Frankie Gustine hit a double and two singles to lead the Pirates' 10-hit attack.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

YOU'RE A VICTIM OF YOUR OWN FIDELITY TO DETAIL, BRONZ. YOU WANTED TO BE SURE OF FOOLING THE JAP, SO YOU MADE THE FAKE AN EXACT COPY OF AN AUTHENTIC ANTIQUE STATUETTE.
HA! YOU'VE A SUPER-ACTIVE IMAGINATION, VAN GOBLIN! TO OVERWORK AN OVERWORKED PHRASE—ANY SIMILARITY BETWEEN MY FAKE STATUETTE AND AN AUTHENTIC ANTIQUE IS PURELY COINCIDENTAL.
IT'S A VERY ELASTIC SAYING, MR. BRONZ...
...BUT WILL IT STRETCH FAR ENOUGH TO COVER THE FACT THAT YOUR FAKE IS AN IDENTICAL COPY OF A FIGURINE STOLEN FROM A MUSEUM NOT FAR FROM HERE ABOUT A DOZEN YEARS AGO?

THEY CAN'T FORCE YOU TO TAKE A LIE DETECTOR TEST. THAT'S WHY I REFUSED.

AND SO, YOUR HONOR, I'D LIKE TO TAKE OUT ADOPTION PAPERS FOR THESE TWO POOR ORPHANS.
REALLY? WELL-I'VE TWO GROWN DAUGHTERS TO HANDLE MYSELF. AND BELIEVE ME-IT REALLY IS A JOB FOR SUPERMAN!!
THEY DON'T SUSPECT IT YET, BUT BY MAKING MYSELF FINANCIALLY RESPONSIBLE FOR THESE TWO LEECHES, I'LL BE ABLE TO GET THE UPPER HAND AND GET RID OF THEM!

Empty Cattle Lots Indicate Future Cut In Meat Output

Production Drop Likely In 30 Days

Most Feeders Remain Inactive

CHICAGO —(AP)— Empty cattle lots dot the mid-western landscape today, a ghostly reminder of last summer's short corn crop. They provide a sad warning to people who like to eat meat.

Market analysts said today the empty feed lots mean a tremendous reduction in meat production, starting in about 30 days.

At this time of year, midwestern farms normally are jammed with cattle undergoing a luscious grain diet prior to being shipped to market. It's that grain, mostly corn, which puts weight on the animals to provide tasty meat. But it isn't that way this year.

H. J. Gramlich, agricultural agent of the Chicago and North Western railway, said "many cattle feeders have temporarily folded up."

"In a three-mile strip paralleling our line west of the Omaha stock yards, where normally several hundred thousand cattle are fattened each year, there does not now appear to be a single head," Gramlich said.

Mark Pickell, secretary of the Corn Belt Livestock Feeders association, was equally pessimistic.

"In a trip through Southern Illinois," he said, "I stopped at a farm where I never have seen less than 400 cattle on feed. The feed lot gates were open. Not a head was in there."

H. M. Conway, market analyst for the National Livestock Producers association, said, "cattle feeders are not refilling their feed lots. They are putting in about 50 per cent of the number which went in last year. It means a tremendous reduction in meat production starting in about 30 days."

While last year's short corn crop was held partly to blame for the situation by Conway, he said that a decline in cattle prices since the start of the year had thrown a scare into cattle feeders.

Pupils Held For Threats

NEW YORK—(AP)—Four soda-sipping teen-agers were accused today of blasting a pretty young high school teacher's home with gunfire after a telephoned death threat warning her not to flunk anybody in mathematics.

A 14-year-old freshman desperately afraid of failing an algebra exam organized the raiders in a candy store police said. They used an automobile stolen for the occasion and loaded with seven .22 calibre automatic rifles taken from a Coney Island shooting gallery.

At least 26 shots peppered the teacher's home in Brooklyn and two adjoining houses.

A 12-year-old was left behind to phone the warning—a few minutes before the burst of bullets.

The shooting occurred Wednesday night. The boys were nabbed yesterday, authorities said, because the ringleader had thought up a third scheme to pass his algebra exam and escape his father's wrath.

Police said Anthony Durso, grimy-faced and clad in dungarees and a plaid cowboy shirt, got a smart neighborhood youngster to be his proxy at the examination.

Police, questioning 165 of the teacher's pupils, uncovered the masquerade during the tests and quickly corraled the five other boys, the oldest 16 years of age.

Throughout it all, the teacher, blond Margaret Jokiel, 24, went quietly about her examination duties under police guard.

Rail Strike Threat Grows

11 strike call issued earlier by the Firemen and Enginemen and Switchmen, said any offer for further arbitration would be rejected. A similar statement was issued by D. B. Robertson, head of the Firemen and Enginemen.

Robertson said in Cleveland, "We've gone through arbitration and we are through discussing the matter through boards. They (the railroads) will have to come through with more money or the strike will start as set on May 11."

Robertson added: "This board and the carriers can't expect our people to settle for 15½ cents an hour increase in 1948 when they could have gotten that amount in the middle of 1947. We must have a 1948 wage pattern based on the 1948 cost-of-living."

Similar views were expressed by Johnston, also in Cleveland.

Douglass, after two separate meetings with the unions, which represent 190,000 members, said "the time has been very productive of opportunities out of which we finally may get a settlement."

In Cleveland, A. L. Whitney, president of the Railroad Trainmen brotherhood, one of the unions which took part in a nationwide rail strike two years ago predicted a settlement would be reached.

O. O. Redmond Stricken at 52

Orin O. Redmond, 52, of 604 Lida street, a craneman at the Empire Steel plant, died at 11:35 a. m. today at General hospital.

Group Raps U. S. Sale Of Oil Pipe

Claims Protests Disregarded

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Defense Secretary Forrestal makes another of his many visits to Capitol Hill today—this time to explain past and future shipments of oil pipeline to Saudi-Arabia.

Sen. Wherry (R-Neb.) and his small business oil subcommittee, want to know whether the administration plans to divert any more U. S. pipe to the 1,150-mile Saudi-Arabian line. If it does, the senators want to know the whys and wherefores.

Subcommittee figures show that 23,000 tons of steel was shipped to Saudi-Arabia during the first three months of 1948. It is estimated that total shipments, if the pipeline program is pushed full-scale, would be 408,000 tons.

Wherry said he is perturbed by reports that 3,000 tons of steel pipe have been licensed for export to Saudi-Arabia this month, despite strong committee protests. He explained:

"At this point, the committee is wondering if the whole lot may not be permitted to go through piecemeal, under cover of special exigencies."

'Job Well Done,' Group Declares

Thirteen representatives of the Grand Jury association of Cuyahoga county cast a critical eye about Ohio State reformatory yesterday afternoon and, after their tour congratulated Supt Arthur J Glattke and Dr John V Horst, prison doctor, on a job well done

As one member put it, "I'm certainly impressed with the conditions I didn't know that the inmates were so well treated and cared for."

The visitors were members of the Grand Jury Institute for Workers in the Fight Against Crime They represent churches former grand juries and social agencies from Cleveland

The group was founded in Cleveland several years ago by Miss Bell Greve Including former members of grand juries in Cleveland, it now is on a tour investigating conditions in penal institutions in the state

PROBLEMS EXPLAINED

Glattke explained to the group problems presented by the various classified types of criminals and the steps taken towards the rehabilitation of the inmates

Of the 2,153 inmates, Glattke said, 646 are physically normal but the others are venereal cases, cases, crippled or diseased. Fifty-two per cent have had military experience and 710 are serving for the first offense. cent The inmates are 37 per cent normal, 20 per cent dullards 18 per cent borderline mental deficients, and 10 per cent psychopathic personalities

The grand jury group is studying the problem of community responsibility towards prison inmates, 75 per cent of whom are from broken families

TOUR BUILDINGS

The group enjoyed luncheon at the Reformatory before starting its tour of the buildings

It visited the inmates' mess shops, cell blocks and hospital where members of the group were free to talk and watch the prisoners at work

They expressed themselves as favorably impressed with conditions in the reformatory but slightly despondent at a situation which forces juvenile delinquents 16 years old to work and associate with older inmates up to 30 years old and of quite varied mental standards

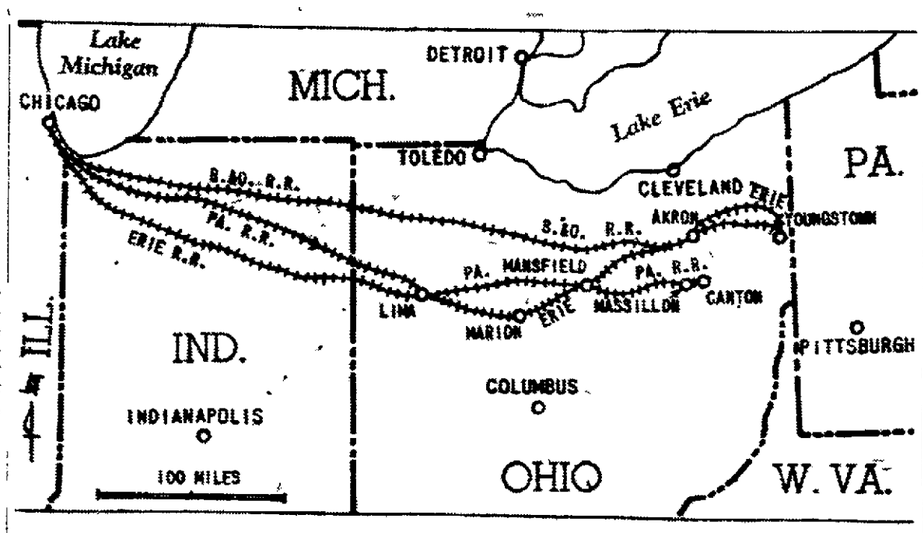
Dr Horst explained that conditions could be improved by a careful investigation and classification of the mental and physical health of each inmate before his internment

Wage Floor Called Guard

WASHINGTON —(UP)— Spokesmen for small-town newspapers and the American Newspaper Guild (CIO) differed sharply yesterday on proposals to increase the present 40 cent-an hour minimum wage

Ed M Anderson chairman of the National Editorial association's legislative committee, representing 6,000 small-town newspapers, said increases above the present minimum "have a tendency to spread inflation" But Sam B Eubanks executive vice president of the Newspaper Guild, urged that the present wage floor be raised to 75 cents an hour

They presented their arguments in statements prepared for delivery before a Senate labor subcommittee



EAST-WEST RAIL ARTERIES—Three major rail lines serve the Mansfield area from the west and east, but the better eastbound trains either don't stop in Mansfield or are night trains from Chicago

★ ★ ★

Only Slow Trains Serve Mansfield

Railroads Neglect Rich Ohio Routes

A campaign to obtain better daylight train service between Chicago and points in Ohio has been launched by the Chicago Tribune

In a recent article the paper pointed out that Lima, Mansfield Akron, Canton and Youngstown important centers of trade and industry are served by either the Pennsylvania or the Baltimore & Ohio The Erie serves Lima, Marion Mansfield Youngstown and Akron

"They all have one point in common," the paper declared, train connecting them with Chicago"

The article explains that there are 10 trains from Chicago to those Ohio cities The Pennsylvania has four—the Fort Pitt the Manhattan Limited, the Admiral and the Trailblazer

OLD-FASHIONED TRAIN

"The Fort Pitt is a daylight train but it is slow and old fashioned on a slow schedule that allows seven and a half hours to cover the 368 miles to Canton

The Manhattan and Admiral carry old style pullmans and are designed primarily to serve between New York and Chicago

The Trailblazer offers the best service to Ohio but it does not arrive in Canton until 10 36 p m

The article states that Erie and B & O are in just about the same position offering trains that leave Chicago and arrive in Ohio during late evening or early morning hours

The same situation exists on the east to west runs with the good trains passing through Ohio early in the morning Daytime coach travelers do not have access to fast trains with convenient schedules

City Seeking Rebel Flags

BALTIMORE—(UP)—This city is advertising for Confederate battle flags—but hold your fire, Yanks

There's no rebirth of the Civil war in prospect it's just the Monument City getting ready to dedicate another statue

This one is an enormous job in bronze depicting Generals Robert E Lee and Stonewall Jackson parting on the night before the Battle of Chancellorsville where Jackson was shot accidentally by one of his own troops

The statue is to be dedicated Saturday just 85 years after the battle and the Confederate battle standards are wanted to decorate the site of the unveiling

Plumbers Incorporate

Incorporation papers were issued yesterday to the Mansfield Master Plumbers association, a non-profit organization

Frank Fluetchen one of the incorporators said the organization primarily is a social group Its officers are Chester Critchfield 411 Sloane avenue president and Wade Stanfield 205 Coul street secretary

Incorporators were Stan Fluetchen Earl W Kaufman T Johnston, and Stanfield as agent

Many Gain Higher Pay By Tax Cut

Change Becomes Effective Saturday

WASHINGTON — (NS) — The paychecks of 45 million taxpayers will be fatter after today because of the $4 088 000 000 tax cut law passed over President Truman's veto

About 7 400 000 workers will be relieved of paying any tax at all

These are the salient affects which the law will have on the withholding taxes of U S workers beginning May 1 Uncle Sam will start taking a smaller cut from wages and salaries paid on or after that date regardless of when they were earned

Everyone of the 55 000 000 income taxpayers in the country will benefit from the law but only the 45 000 subject to withholding taxes will feel the immediate benefit

Those who make payments on a quarterly or yearly basis will find occasion to rejoice when the payments are made The next quarterly tax installment is due June 15

Under the law, taxes will be reduced on a sliding scale from 12 6 to five per cent. Taxes which add up to $400 a year will be chopped the maximum amount Those who pay $134,000 a year or more to support the government will pay five per cent less

The new law also extends to all taxpayers so-called community property privileges now enjoyed in only 12 states and raises personal exemptions from $500 a person to $600 a person

The law is retroactive to Jan 1 but the taxpayers will have to wait until next year to get a refund for payments made under the old rates during the first four months of this year

Man Who Couldn't Borrow $500 Gets $50,000 Instead

BOSTON —(AP)— A 33-year-old Suffolk university instructor who a few weeks ago tried to borrow $500 at a Boston bank—and was refused as a poor risk—has sold the movie rights to a novel for $50,000.

Thomas Savage said he received the check from Columbia Pictures for rights to his "Lona Hanson."

"We had just moved here," he said. "I wanted to buy some furniture. We had been living in rented places."

The bank, he said, hemmed and hawed, and politely turned him down.

"I told them I had written a novel but they told me they just couldn't see how I could possibly pay the money back," he smiled.

Savage, who has had a varied career as welder, dude ranch hand, plumber's assistant and railroad brakeman, said he "dislikes banks anyway."

But he did hear again from the one that refused him a loan.

It was one of the first to telephone congratulations on his good fortune.

"They wanted me to put the money as a trust in their bank," he explained.

"I turned them down—politely."

Six United In Surprising Broadway Success Story

NEW YORK—(AP)—As dramatic a success story as there is on Broadway has for principals James Stewart, Henry Fonda, Myron McCormick, Kent Smith, Bretaigne Windust and Joshua Logan.

The latter two are directors, respectively, of "Finian's Rainbow" and "Mr Roberts" Fonda, McCormick and Stewart are leading lights in "Mr Roberts," "Joy to the World" and "Harvey" Kent Smith has been appearing with Katharine Cornell in "Antony and Cleopatra"

Twenty years ago they were six stagestruck college boys from Princeton and Harvard who built a ramshackle theater and night club with their own hands at West Falmouth Cape Cod, Mass Their partners in the venture were some talented unknowns named Margaret Sullavan, Mildred Natwick and Barbara O'Neil

If even one of such a group had hit the mark it would be noteworthy. Most of them, 20 years later, are household words. Remarkably, they have stuck together in success.

When Fonda arrived in New York to star in 'Mr Roberts' he announced "Jimmy is coming in to play 'Harvey' because he's lonesome for the rest of us"

The night McCormick opened in "Joy to the World' a couple of weeks later Fonda and Stewart ran through the back alleys from their theaters to McCormick's dressing room to be there when the curtain came down and find out how it went

The Falmouth alumni are together constantly in their leisure hours "Our wives," McCormick sighs "get along fine together, but they get bored listening to us"

They were resilient geniuses in the Falmouth days. Rehearsals took place on the beach in bathing suits. The boys lived in one cottage, the girls in another with the wardrobe mistress as chaperone

Everybody was young, deadly in earnest, careless of personal comfort and itchy with ambition They pulled up stakes for a winter of stock in Baltimore where they produced a number of plays.

The same company today probably could run forever in anything, but that spring 16 years ago they had to dismantle their props and one by one they drifted into New York

This is the first time in all the years so many of them have been on Broadway at the same time

Only the girls are missing—they are all in Hollywood.

Century-Old Ohio Paper Up For Sale

$10,000,000 Set As Minimum Bid

CINCINNATI —(AP)— The Cincinnati Enquirer, 107-year-old morning newspaper published by Roger Ferger and owned by the estate of John Roll McLean, was put up for sale today.

Trustees for the estate said that the Enquirer was offered for sale because the newspaper's worth had grown until it was out of balance with the rest of the McLean estate.

The sale offer was made with the reservation that the trustees could refuse all bids should they be less than the tentative $10,000,000 evaluation placed on the property by the trustees.

Prospective bidders were reported to include Frank Gannett, a newspaper chain publisher; the Ridder brothers of Manhattan and Minnesota; Silliman-Evans, publisher of the Nashville Tennessean; and Ferger, who was expected to make an offer backed by Cincinnati capital.

Heirs of the estate are Jon R. and Edward B. McLean, grandsons, and Mamie Spears Reynolds, granddaughter of the late Evelyn Walsh McLean.

Get Liquor Funds

Mansfield today was allocated $15,890 in state liquor permit funds for the first quarter of the year. Galion will receive $5,229. Total allocation was $2,407,695, State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson said.

NEW MISS MARKER—Filmdom's new "Little Miss Marker," 5-year-old Mary Jayne Saunders of Pasadena, Cal., smiles as she holds her $125-a-week contract, approved in Los Angeles Superior court after her selection from among 5,000 children to play the role Shirley Temple made famous 15 years ago. The contract calls for $1,250 weekly in seven years.

PAGE EIGHT MANSFIELD, OHIO, FRIDAY, APRIL 30, 1948

By the way, speaking of a 70-group Air Force, more or less, how large is a group?

"This is forever," murmured Lana as she became the fourth wife of her fourth husband—what'll you bet?

A Chicago medical authority gives assurance that bouillon cubes are not habit-forming—nor is spinach likely to produce incurable addicts.

Danger Spots On Marion Avenue

NOW THAT a single arrest has been made for driving at illegal speed in the Marion avenue school zone, considerable public concern has been evidenced in the traffic dangers presented on that thoroughfare.

In addition to a grade school and a number of business places, one point on Marion avenue is made particularly dangerous by inflow of traffic from Sherman avenue and Maple street, with "stop" signs serving as inadequate safeguards because of the frequency with which they are disregarded.

It seems odd, with the number of traffic lights that have been installed at various intersections from time to time, that the advantage of placing a traffic light at one of the Marion avenue intersections has been overlooked—with the Bartley avenue corner appearing as the most logical place for it.

This would tend to overcome the habit of some motorists to speed the entire length of Marion avenue, without regard to intersections, business areas or school zone, and would also reduce the hazards to pedestrians who find it necessary to cross Marion avenue.

Meanwhile, however, one arrest for driving above legal speed on this heavily traveled thoroughfare does not seem to have served as sufficient warning to other offenders—why not adopt a non-favoritism policy in arresting and punishing speeders on this and other thoroughfares on which they endanger lives?

Taft Holds To Republican Principles

WHILE Harold E. Stassen has maneuvered himself into a prominent spot in the public fancy, as indicated by the primaries held to date, he has also got himself into a peculiar position with his own party.

Veteran Washington political correspondents are observing that in his eagerness to oppose everything Senator Robert A. Taft supports, Stassen has virtually renounced the whole record of the Republican party whose nomination he seeks!

Taft and the Republican majority have voted together on 77 out of 82 important measures thus far in the 80th Congress. One correspondent wisecracked—and it was more truth than jest—that the GOP majority voted with Taft 77 times.

By playing up his disagreements with the veteran Ohio senator, former Governor Stassen is repudiating his own party. Where this would leave him if he attempted to draw up a positive program to be included in a GOP platform based on the record of the GOP Congress is paradoxical, to say the least. He has already sawed off the limb he proposes to sit on!

It should be remembered, too, that Senator Taft stood virtually alone for a number of years in consistently fighting New Deal folly in the Senate. Those who wish to capitalize on his long fight should certainly have the good grace to acknowledge that he charted the course of the party in stormy times.

When Civilizing Influences Fail

FROM the mass of editorial comment on the recent Turner-Topping wedding, an excerpt from the Detroit News handling of the unsavory affair seems worthy of thoughtful consideration by readers who have difficulty in understanding the strange behavior of some of the people who have come into national prominence.

After opening paragraphs, the quoted editorial says: "Fate moves in a mysterious way thus to bring together these two—one born to wealth and all it commands, and a girl who started from as far back in poverty and obscurity as one can go—and yet curiously alike in having, in any adequate, civilized sense, no bringing up at all.

"On the record, it would be hard to say which is the poorer matrimonial risk. Or, indeed, why society should let this sort of thing go on, unless it feels it can not stand between two who so patently deserve each other."

And now you understand it. Or don't you? Well, it doesn't matter much, in either event.

Problems of 1975 Being Pondered

BAD DAYS seem to be coming for the United States. The slowing down of births, coupled with improved health measures which will prolong life, will bring the average age of Americans up, according to Dr. Warren S. Thompson, director of the Scripps Foundation for Population Studies at Miami University, Oxford. By 1975, according to Dr. Thompson, there will be twice as many Americans over 65 as there are today, more middle-aged people and fewer young persons.

This means a much more conservative national viewpoint. New economic and political ideas will have a harder time in getting a hearing and adoption. People notoriously become hostile to new views as they get older. William James, the leading psychologist of a former generation, once said that old-fogeyism began at 25. He spoke half humorously, but there may be something to it.

With atomic energy creating a new world with scores of new problems, the United States will need open-minded people if it is to go ahead or even stand still. This forecast of a coming ultra-conservatism indicates a danger which should be combatted in all possible ways.

Four members of the Supreme Court admit that they "do not always understand the opinions" of that body—which excuses others who find themselves in a similar plight.

What Some Other People Are Saying

FORMER KING PETER OF YUGOSLAVIA: "The Marshall Plan is the beginning of the end of all dictatorships in Europe. The people of the world are fed up with dictatorships, both inside and outside the iron curtain."

* * *

JAMES F. O'NEIL, national commander of the American Legion: "The time to deal with communism is before, not after, disaster strikes. Czechoslovakia waited too long and lost liberty—Colombia waited too long and is still counting its dead."

* * *

REP. HELEN GAHAGAN DOUGLAS (D-Cal) . . . The Republicans are to blame for repeal of OPA. . . . They gave the people headlines instead of health. A housewife can't feed her family on speeches and declarations of Americanism."

Starting a Fire Without Matches.

Publicity As Weapon Against Commies

WASHINGTON—The House un-American activities committee agrees with FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover: Don't send the Communists underground. The committee has decided that full publicity is the best weapon to use against communism.

Members said that they are agreed that any attempt to outlaw the Communist party would be ineffective. They recalled that such a step had failed in other countries, including Canada.

This focusing of the spotlight on communism accounts for legislative proposals, emanating from the committee, to require the attorney general to specify what organizations are "Communist Front" and to require such organizations to register with the government as foreign agents.

Organizations so branded would have the privilege of review of the attorney general's findings by the federal courts. However, an attempt would be made to require that all propaganda of the organizations be labeled as "Communist Front."

* * *

Operators' Budget.

SOFT COAL operators figure that maximum pension that can be sustained under the present 10 cents a ton royalty on coal is $50 a month to miners aged 65.

They claim the compromise pension agreement reached between John L. Lewis and Senator Styles Bridges (R), New Hampshire, recently appointed welfare fund trustee, would confront the coal industry with an accrued liability of over one billion dollars.

This, the mine owners say, would require an increase in the coal royalty to about 40 cents a ton. Bridges' proposal calls for a $100-a-month pension at the retirement age of 62 years.

Operators point out that death, medical, hospital and other benefits also have to be included in the miners' welfare fund. They estimate that these would cost a minimum of 14 million dollars a year before any pensions are paid.

On a royalty of 10 cents a ton, the welfare fund would collect between 50 and 60 million dollars annually.

* * *

Atomic Secrecy.

LOOK for no further details on the recent atomic weapon test at Eniwetok atoll in the near future. The atomic energy commission has clamped a "do not talk" label on the experiment and there is virtually no chance anyone will discuss the test.

The 18-member atomic energy committee of Congress will get a classified report on the test results. This is one time, however, you can expert the senators and representatives to keep still.

Of course, the atomic commission from time to time probably will make public information regarding the A-tests when it feels such disclosures will not imperil the nation's safety.

* * *

Democratic Strategy.

THE Democrats are pinning their hope for victory at the polls in November largely on the inflation issue which was revived by President Truman in his address to the Society of Newspaper Editors.

This strategy is based on a belief—largely shared by the more orthodox economists—that the cost of living will mount gradually but appreciably between now and next fall, when a new president is to be elected.

Lack of controls, the threat of deficit financing or a much-smaller-than-expected retirement of the national debt, plus mounting expenditures under the foreign aid program are the principal inflationary incentives in the domestic economy.

Should these three factors result in high prices to the point of public agitation, such as was experienced last autumn, the Democrats hope to lay the blame at the doorstep of the GOP and be returned to office on the basis of voter indignation against the "do nothing" policy pursued by the Republican-controlled Congress over the last two years.

Looking Back

Twenty Years Ago Today

Monday, April 30, 1928.

Forty seniors of Ohio State university visited Mansfield industrial plants.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Goemann returned to Mansfield home after spending winter in California.

Permit was issued to V. D. Coe to build frame house on Brickman avenue at estimated cost of $4,000.

Miss Margaret Starkey returned to Wittenberg college, Springfield, after spending the week-end at her home here.

F. A. Baer moved from 66 Bartley avenue to 503 Forest avenue.

Patrolman Oscar Krupp was called to his former home near Tiffin by the death of his father.

Y's Men's club held ladies' night at Y. M. C. A., with bowling matches following the dinner.

TODAY IN HISTORY

George Washington was formally inaugurated as first President of the United States on April 30, 1789.

Dave Boone Says:

THE SUPREME COURT has ruled that the cement industry is guilty of unfair price-fixing. The vote was six to one, which shows that most of the judges must have received a bill for cellar repairs this winter.

* * *

Justice Harold Burton alone dissented. I figure he hasn't tried to repair anything yet or else he used a hammer and nails.

* * *

The government hails it as a test case paving the way to action which will bring down prices in every field of building. But I ain't optimistic—the cement case has been in the courts for at least five years, which is longer than some modern cement lasts. And I'm afraid that by the time building costs are lowered we will all have houses or will be living in tents.

* * *

A couple of justices didn't sit on the cement case. Maybe there weren't enough trowels to go around.

They're Just 'Plain People'

We read and write so many tricky platitudes on the subject but most platitudes are apt to be sugar coated patronizing pity.

How many plain people are respected and valued at their full worth?

A plain person is like good earth. He is a composite of many, many things and he nourishes within himself many lives. Those lives are as miraculous as the soil itself.

Of all the miracles which come and go upon this globe there is no thing more wonderful than the common soil from which we spring. The soil spreads unnoticed beneath our feet yet it holds all the beauty and wonder and magic in the world. It is truly "our mother."

And so it is with that great throng of "common people," whose days are filled with their simple acts and thoughts—the plain, unselfish mother, the shabby father we so easily forget yet who truly gives his life for us, the tired workers who make the world go 'round.

How surely they are the salt of the earth and how easily we forget that fact.

Rebuke to Speeders.

Editor News-Journal:

For more than two years I have felt much concerned about the speeding out this way. I have wondered how the kiddies on Maple street escaped the speedsters and as I walked farther abroad—and you have to walk to really realize the condition I was just amazed.

What had prevented accidents where Marion, Sherman and Maple meet. It was a real hazard to try and get across the street, and if one were unable to hurry, as is the case of many, well, it was trying, to say the least. God has certainly been present in a wonderful way.

Mansfield needs a stop light there, and at once, before a tragedy occurs.

I am just a visitor but Mansfield was my home at one time and I have grandchildren who live on Maple street and need the safeguarding of traffic lights. And I love the other kiddies who live hereabouts.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Royall Frowns On Prosecution of Nazis

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — During the closing months of the recent war, ex-Secretary of War Robert Patterson remarked to this writer:

"I am worried for fear our present determination to punish the Nazi war criminals will cool off. If we are to prevent future war we must convict and punish several thousand of the guilty, and do it right away. If we don't do it quickly, it may never be done."

Secretary Patterson was referring to the tolerant spirit of the American people.

What he didn't foresee was that the chief exponent of letting the Nazis off easy would be his own successor—Kenneth Royall, now secretary of the army.

During the war, Royall made a brilliant defense of the Nazi saboteurs who landed on Long Island by submarine. Appointed as attorney for the saboteurs, his argument was so able that some people seemed almost convinced they should go free.

Now, before the House appropriations committee, he seems equally anxious to forgive other war criminals. In addition, he has summoned Gen. Telford Taylor, able war crimes prosecutor, back to Washington.

* * *

Others Had Same Idea.

ROYALL'S testimony before the House appropriations committee, hitherto secret, has now been made public. It reveals that GOP Congressmen John Taber of New York and Richard Wigglesworth, Boston blueblood, were just as anxious as Royall to let Nazi criminals down easily—possibly more so.

Cross-examined by these two congressmen as to why the anti-Nazi trials weren't stopped, Royall replied:

"Last August we eliminated approximately three-fourths of the cases. When I went over there (Germany) I approved that elimination. The reason they were not entirely stopped was that General Clay felt, and convinced me, that to stop suddenly would create a disparity between people who had been de-Nazified and those who had not."

"It is very much of a headache, I think," growled Taber.

"I had very firm views against the whole approach to it originally," chimed in the secretary of the army. "When I was there in August I prescribed that only those cases of a limited class could be tried. No additional war-crimes trials will be held except those now in process."

* * *

Save Money—Save Nazis.

"WHAT would happen if we just pulled the curtain down tomorrow," asked Congressman Wigglesworth, "and said 'no more money'!"

"I don't think it would be terribly serious if we stopped them at all," was Royall's amazing reply. "But I believe the better policy is to let those that are being tried be continued. My initial reaction when I went there in August was exactly what you intimate, that we ought to stop these immediately. I do think the reasons advanced by General Clay were sound."

Cross-examined further by the two Republican congressmen, the secretary of the army made this significant statement about U. S. policy in Germany:

"I agree entirely," he said, "that the prime objective we have in Germany is to build up a strong Germany both politically and industrially. I fully realize that too great an extension of the de-Nazification trials is a danger that must be reckoned with on both these grounds."

Meanwhile, some of the indictments against the famed Krupp munitions executives already have been dropped, while wires are being pulled to let off executives of I. G. Farben. The latter operated a slave-labor camp where thousands of people were killed.

Assignment: America

Congressmen In Action

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON—And now, ladies and gentlemen, we come again to the question:

When is the Congressional Record not a congressional record?

And the answer:

When it is tampered with after the proceedings have ended.

Although that sort of thing makes it somewhat difficult for the subscribing taxpayers to know exactly what goes on in the hallowed halls of Congress, that sort of farcical treatment of the so-called "record" is a very common occurrence in these parts.

Pity the poor congressman who, after shouting himself hoarse on the floor of the House or Senate all day, has to sit up all night, slaving over a hot printing office proof—altering what he said to what he wants the voters to think he said.

It happens all the time. Take the case of Republican Representative Harold Knutson the other day, for instance . . .

It happened during the big butter and oleomargarine battle in the House when, incidentally, practically anything went.

The boys were very angry and since the spring tourist season was in full swing and the galleries were packed, there must have been many a person who left Capitol Hill somewhat disillusioned about the conduct of the Congress of these United States.

As you undoubtedly recall, the big fight was over a bill to repeal the tax on margarine. Needless to say, the powerful butter producers lobby was quite bitter about the whole business. The margarine makers, on the other hand, were obviously enthusiastic.

Most of the congressmen involved in the squabble seemed to have committed themselves pretty definitely to their constituents or somebody. Anyhow, they got far more excited over the issue than many of them did over the question of the Marshall Plan or atomic energy.

Some of the things that went into the record—that is to say, some of the things that were left in the record—were pretty ridiculous, as you look back over them.

* * *

Bitter Over Butter.

THE BOYS who were opposing the tax repeal asserted that if the general public just knew what went into the making of margarine, they'd never buy anything but butter. And the things they hinted would curdle your blood.

Simultaneously (and I mean that literally), those solons who favored the bill delved into the hygienics of the dairy business and just as openly implied that anyone who wanted to live to a healthy old age would stick to margarine.

Just how they got off on that angle remains a mystery. After all, they weren't passing a pure food law, or even questioning—that is, legislatively speaking—the quality or health factors of either butter or margarine. They were simply debating a margarine tax repeal bill.

As was mentioned before, it was not an inspiring sight or sound.

Then, when things seemed to be going bad for the butter boys, Congressman Knutson got up again. Since he hails from Minnesota, deep in the dairy country, he was practically apoplectic in his opposition to repeal.

He told off the margarine men in minute detail. He jumped all over the Democrats. He bemoaned the fact that the American housewife has been misled on the subject. Then, having passed the boiling point, he turned on his Republican colleagues, some of whom were supporting the repeal bill.

"You saps," he snorted scathingly, and then proceeded to tell them just why they were saps. He used the word at least half a dozen times, as best this correspondent could hear. Reporters in the gallery grinned and wrote the story.

But next day, when the Congressional Record came out, it appeared that Congressman Knutson had had a busy night, correcting proofs—if "correcting" is the proper term.

According to the record, he hadn't said "you saps" to his fellow Republicans, at all. He merely had said "You poor, misguided creatures."

Well, it's a cinch somebody's getting misguided.

Washington Calling

Weighing the Evidence

By MARQUIS CHILDS

THE TWO contestants in the Republican presidential primary in Ohio are really warming up. Harold Stassen and Sen. Robert A. Taft are throwing assorted crockery at each other as the campaign goes into its final days.

Stassen intimates that Taft is the arch enemy of labor. And Taft comes back with the most lurid of all charges. Stassen, he says, is a New Dealer.

One thing this contest demonstrates, and that is how little meaning political labels really have. Taft is aggrieved that Stassen should be considered a liberal and that, by contrast, he himself is made to seem a conservative or even a reactionary.

Looking at the record, one must admit that he has reason to feel he is being treated unjustly. What has just happened here in Washington underwrites Taft's claim that he has just as much right to the "liberal" label as the ambitious young man from Minnesota.

The Senate has passed the Taft-Ellender - Wagner housing bill. Taft can rightly claim credit for its passage. It was his persistence and his parliamentary resourcefulness that put it through in spite of all the obstacles set in its path.

As adopted by the Senate, the heart of the measure is the provision for slum clearance with federal funds. The government will put in $160,000,000 over a period of five years to help build 500,000 low rental units. In spite of screams of socialism and communism from the building and real-estate lobbies, Taft has stuck by this public-housing provision. He has stuck by it with the stubbornness of a man who has the courage to be right once he has made up his mind.

Interestingly enough, the chief opponent of this public-housing provision in the senate was Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin. McCarthy is Stassen's chief senatorial supporter. He campaigned for him in Wisconsin and Nebraska.

Stassen cannot, of course, be held accountable for the things his friends say and do. He himself has urged that the federal government use a billion dollars a year "for a major large-scale construction effort."

* * *

Health and Education.

NOT only on housing but on health and education Taft has fought for the minimum of fereral aid which he believes essential to raise the lowest-income families to a decent standard. He has fought McCarthy and other conservatives in the Senate and the tory band in the House that has held the fort against any constructive legislation.

This gives point to Taft's accusation that Stassen deliberately stayed out of the Senate in order to run for president and thereby avoided the day-to-day struggle to shape Republican policy.

Primarily it is on foreign policy that Stassen is judged a liberal, and Taft a conservative. Repeatedly Stassen has spoken his approval of Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg and the European recovery program. Taft tried to reduce the recovery appropriation by a billion dollars—which would have made it a futile breadline operation.

Even here, however, the labels will not stay put. Stassen advocated a provision denying any recovery funds to countries that proposed further nationalization or socialization.

Such a provision would have been regarded in Europe as an attempt to dictate internal policy and, if it had been included, most nations would have been unable to cooperate in the program.

Taft was against the provision, saying he believed it to be unworkable.

When you get away from principles and onto personalities, then the difference between the two battlers in Ohio is really striking. Taft is plain-spoken to the point of bluntness, and his speeches are never spiced with fine phrases. Stassen impressed the voters with his sincere eloquence, his hopeful generalities about America and the world.

Active Year Of Red Cross Work Closes

Pupils Make Afghans For Vet Hospitals

A year of increased activity is about to close for the Junior Red Cross of Richland county.

Their final venture into the project realm was the making of afghans for veterans hospitals.

This latest and newest project for the year netted four complete afghans, three knitted and one crocheted, all by elementary school children of city and county schools. It was under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Smith, knitting chairman.

Meeting each Monday after school at the chapter house, children from Carpenter, Prospect, Hedges, West Fifth, Brinkerhoff and Bowman schools have knit 400 squares, which were made into three afghans.

No. 1 knitter was Carol McCumber, a fourth grader, West Fifth school, who has 180 squares to her credit. Linda Smith has knit 30 and Mary Lou Workman has produced 26 of the gayly colored squares.

SHELBY MAKES ONE

The fourth afghan was crocheted by pupils of Miss Lucille Fenner at the Central school in Shelby.

All four afghans will be sent to veterans hospitals to provide comfort and warmth for some of America's injured veterans.

The entire year has been a productive one for the 13,442 Junior Red Cross members in Mansfield and Richland county. In addition to the afghans, they have filled 600 educational boxes with small gifts for children overseas who go to school but without many of the small necessities.

They have stuffed toys, ranging through the zoo category and including kangaroos, horses, lions, and many others. Thirty of these toys were sent to the Children's Home at Christmas time and 200 others sent to nurseries overseas.

Then there have been the hundreds of favors for holiday seasons made to brighten trays for the sick in veterans and local hospitals. These have provided bits of cheer, in the bright greens and reds of Christmas, the yellows and purples of Easter and the red and white of Washington's birthday.

200 WASH CLOTHS

Included among items which have tumbled out of the scrap bags of Mansfield homes or been turned out by little deft hands have been 350 washcloths. These too, were sent wherever badly needed, some overseas and others to hospitals.

"But projects aren't all the things accomplished by Junior Red Cross members during the year," Mrs. Ephraim Brown, chairman, explained.

"They have learned as well as made. Senior high school pupils throughout the county, with the exception of three schools, have been taught the fundamentals of bedside nursing care so that they might help in times of emergencies in their own homes. The last of these courses was completed yesterday by Miss Bessie Easly, Red Cross nursing supervior."

TALKS WITH PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, after a talk with President Truman, said yesterday she is taking no part in any political campaign. She would not say whether she favored Mr. Truman's renomination.

Mint Juleps Win Praise

ATLANTA — (AP) — And now comes Dr. George R. Herrman with a good word for mint juleps.

They "dilate the arteries of the heart," the doctor explained.

For that reason, he went on to say, it might be a good idea for people to start sipping them more—and taking things easier—to help ward off an alarming increase in heart disease.

Dr. Herrman is medical professor at Texas university.

He Just Neglected Cigarettes; That's All There Was to Quitting

SORRY, no got a match. I used to carry matches and I must have four or five lighters kicking around the house, all out of gas. One of them is gold, I think, a birthday present, or Christmas, from back in those crazy days when everybody had to have an expensive lighter from the English spot on the avenue where the counter-hoppers wear those long white, doctor coats, like butchers in a packing plant, and you don't just ask for a pack of gaspers but act like you were in church and the guy goes into a vault and comes out with something very tasty in tinfoil from the old world.

Anyway, I certainly am glad I don't have to find the tweezers and scuff the heel of my thumb raw like Jimmy Valentine's every two or three weeks changing flints.

No, I didn't swear off, I just didn't smoke any more.

After more than 30 years, probably more like 35, one morning I didn't smoke until noon and then I didn't smoke until evening and when it came bedtime and I hadn't smoked I was almost afraid to think about it. But I ignored it and the next day I kept putting it off, and many's the time I had gone two or three days and sometimes even a week, but this time it was different. Other times I used to count the minutes and hours and figure crazy problems like if I didn't smoke 30 a day for 30 days that would be, let's see, three times O-so—that would be 900 I didn't smoke in a month.

This time I was aloof. After the second day, anyway, I ignored it. Once in a while she would say she was real proud and nobody could realize what a comfort it was not to have that reek always around but I preferred not to discuss the matter at all.

After a month, I was pretty sure of myself, although, as I say, this time it was no struggle because I just relaxed and didn't make a struggle of it, I ignored it.

Two months. I wasn't counting any more. I haven't counted in three months. I just don't smoke so I don't have no reason to carry matches.

★

I have been noticing that other men of my age suddenly just aren't smoking any more after years and years—practically a lifetime of smoking—I am afraid. Tisdale, Bilby, Dan Beckett. All big smokers. I tell you it is a year now and it was no effort at all. No temptation, ever. It seems as though I might have had my share and suddenly didn't want any more.

What's What and Who's Who On the Stage Called Broadway

WINCHELLEBRITIES: Bing Crosby patrolling the Sherry-Netherland lobby incognito. (Wearing a tie!) . . . The Fred Allens chuckling their way through the B'way throng looking very hoopy. . . . Bernard M. Baruch swapping ta-tas with friends. Shoves off on the 1st to visit Churchill . . . Guy Kibbee kibbeetzing a group of excavation workers at Park and 59th . . . Carl Sandburg, the poetcher, coming out of the library at 42nd Street with a mountain of tomes . . . Dodgers manager Durocher being teased by fans on the street (over the flopping team) with: "Hey, Leo! Need a Shotton the arm?" . . . 3½ years young Shermane Billingsley (in the Cub Room the other matinee) flirting with a columnist: "I will break your heart some day," she vamp'd, "with my big blue eyes!" . . . Violet "Miss Ireland" Nolan (just in from Dublin), one of the best ads Eire has had since the shamrock.

Sallies in Our Alley: They were gabbing about the fabulous success of Kay Thompson at Le Directoire again last night. "Look at the dough she's made," said a ringsider, "with those 4 Williams brothers" . . . "So wot?" said another. "Arline Judge made a lot more with only two Toppings" . . . In Reuben's an actor was moaning that he couldn't sleep, eat or anything since his wife left him . . . "You must have loved her very much," sympathized Florence Desmond . . . "Loved her, my eye," was the retort. "She's got all my money!"

★

Midtown Vignette: It was at a rehearsal of the touring troupe of "High Button Shoes" the other afternoon . . . We witnessed some of it from a rear pew . . . They were an exciting bunch, this No. 2 Company, giving their all to impress the management and the audience made up mainly of other musical comedy casts around Broadway . . . "Look at them," someone whispered. "They are working so hard to make good. The trouble with many shows is that after they click the cast get sloppy in their performance and stop trying their best" . . . "They stop," explained a critic, "being hungry."

★

Memos of a Midnighter: Vilma Ebsen (Buddy's sister) marries Virginia Bruce's brother (Stanley Briggs) next month . . . Betty Scott is honeymooning with tunesmith Fred Schiller . . . Valerie White (the lead in "The Winslow Boy") and her husband will Renogotiate in London . . . Gloria Grahame (when free from Stanley Clements) will become Mrs. Nicholay Rey. He's the director . . . Gwen Filling (a copywriter at the Newell-Emmett ad agency) is the gal on the May 3rd Life cover . . . Loew's just closed a big deal for a big hunk of 6th Ave. property. They plan a dream house to compete with the Radio City m.h . . . The Edison Green Room signed up Delora Bueno until 1951, her wages reaching $1,700 then . . . Oops! Judge Hackenburg is Czech, not Joiman . . . Joan La Roche, who won the Stork Club $100 (Sunday balloon night), lost it there.

★

New Yorkers Are Talking About: Anne Lindbergh's "Anywhere in Europe" (Harper's mag), a fine piece of writing . . . "Your Song and Mine" (another Hummert-dinger) on CBS . . . "You'll Always Be My Sweetheart," a Metro disc . . . Ted Steele's crew at the Essex House . . . Ingrid Bergman and Charles Boyer in "Arch of Triumph" . . . And the discovery that whereas Kinsey's book gives statistics, Havelock Ellis' "Studies in the Psychology of Sex" (written decades ago) gives case histories.

Psychiatrist Of OSR Dies In Hospital

Dr. Fowler Served As Major In Army

Dr. Murray Nathan Fowler, 49, psychiatrist at the Ohio State Reformatory since 1941, died last night at General hospital following a several weeks' illness.

MANSFIELD MURAL—This painting, hung in the new municipal courtroom at the City building, depicts the first court in Mansfield.

Fact, Fiction Mixed In City Court Mural

By SHELDON BINN

Part fact and part fiction, the mural that now hangs in the renovated municipal court room on the third floor of the City building graphically portrays a Richland county courtroom of 100 years ago.

This 11-by-12 painting was recently completed after nearly two months' work by Artist H. R. McBride, who has a studio at 29½ North Walnut street.

The idea for the painting was McBride's. He was commissioned by the Glasener company, contractors for the new courtroom, to paint the mural. McBride had previously contacted Herbert S. Jones, the architect who designed the courtroom, concerning the mural, and Jones gave the plan his blessing.

The life-like mural not only vividly depicts the protagonists in the drama being unfolded, but shows the very human antics of the jurymen and spectators.

A young girl in a pretty blue bonnet is shown flirting with another young spectator, both of whom seem quite oblivious to the words of Prosecuting Attorney John Manuel May.

Attorney May stands commandingly in the center of the courtroom, his arm outstretched, presenting his case to the four judges seated on the bench.

One hundred years ago, three laymen and a lawyer sat as judges. McBride's mural shows David McCullough, the village tailor; Ezekial Chew, the village blacksmith; the lawyer-judge and Alexander Barr, a school teacher.

FACT, FICTION MIX

Here is one of the several instances in the mural where fact and fiction mix. The names of the men on the bench in Richland county in 1848 were the ones mentioned above. Actual pictures of these men were not available, so McBride posed several Mansfielders for the judges.

Only Attorney May is an actual likeness. McBride drew May's facial characteristics from a painting in an old history book.

At the clerk's table sits the defendant, a bedraggled looking rogue, with his shyster lawyer, who is looking at the heroic figure of May with disdain.

But to the girl in the blue bonnet and her would-be swain, May's oration, the blood-covered ax and shirt on the table and an empty whisky bottle offered as evidence are all distractions to their flirtation.

And all the jurors are not as attentive as they might be. One gentleman, his cheek obviously filled with a "chaw of tobacco," is cutting off a bite of tobacco for his friend next to him. Both have their eyes lowered and have distinctly naughty-boy expressions on their faces.

But an elderly juror in the second row is a bit more attentive to his duty. His hand is cupped over his ear to be sure to catch every word of Attorney May's dissertation on law.

COPIES WHISKY BOTTLE

Authentic details abound in the mural. The whisky bottle shown on the table as evidence is a copy painted from one actually used 100 years ago. An ink-well being used by the clerk is also painted from an actual model. The real one, loaned by Mansfield antique dealer, Harold Wilkinson, who furnished many of the authentic details for McBride, is made of wood and carries a message as pointed today as it was 100 years ago:

"One (letter) today is worth two tomorrow."

An umbrella hangs on Attorney May's chair and under it is a pair of overshoes. McBride said that his research revealed that May always carried the umbrella and overshoes, regardless of weather.

The bailiff in the rear of the mural wears a copper badge. McBride said this is the derivation of the word "copper," or "cop" for short.

McBride painted the mural in two parts, because the ceiling of his studio was not large enough to allow him to paint it on one piece of canvas.

'Stop' Sign Gets Teeth

School Buses to Warn Motorists of Need

Another sign on the rear end of school buses soon will emphasize to motorists the necessity of stopping for halted school buses.

County Superintendent of Schools Boyd Robinson said today Ohio school bus superintendents, at a meeting in Columbus yesterday, called for posting the additional sign.

It will read "State Law" in prominent letters beneath the present sign reading: "School Bus, Stop."

Robinson said another resolution calls for removing nine inches of the seats on either side of the emergency door at the rear of the bus. This change will facilitate exit in case of emergency. Seats now extend partly across the door-way.

About 110 superintendents attended the meeting, conducted by Earl Welshimer, director of transportation for the State Department of Education.

Way Paved For Strike

NEW YORK —(AP)— The CIO United Electrical Workers union announced yesterday it had complied with all legal requirements that might stand in the way of a strike of its 200,000 members employed by the General Electric and Westinghouse companies and the electrical division of General Motors.

The union's national director of organization, James J. Matles, said none of the companies had agreed to meet demands of the workers for "substantial" wage increases.

The union has not initiated a strike vote among its members. Matles said, however, that strike notices required under the Taft-Hartley law have been filed and that the necessary waiting periods have expired.

G-E and Westinghouse officials have opposed demands for a new round of wage increases on the ground that they would heighten inflationary trends.

Street Job Postponed

The street department has postponed the resurfacing of the west side of the intersection of South Main street and Lexington avenue until the end of the school year.

Street Supt. E. W. Davis said the postponement was ordered at the request of Traffic Commissioner Frend C. Boals, who pointed out that traffic detoured around the repair work would travel on Prospect street and would be a hazard to the pupils at Prospect school.

Boals also explained that with the Mulberry street bridge closed for repairs at this time South Main street is carrying a double load. If that street should be closed also, the resulting traffic routed on a detour would be difficult to handle, he said.

Mansfield Would Be Terminus

Project In 'Talking Stage'

A superhighway from the Ohio river to Mansfield by way of State Routes 75, 664, and 13 was given the backing of the Pomeroy Chamber of Commerce last night.

The highway would go from Mansfield through Newark, Logan and Ironton to the Ohio river and join Route 52 at Huntington as a federal highway under the proposal of Frank Morrow of Wellston, O.

The highway route, Morrow said, would by-pass Columbus and other large centers and speed up traffic, as well as take congestion from Routes 21 and 23.

A resolution backing the highway plan was passed by the Pomeroy Chamber of Commerce, together with the Southeastern Ohio Regional council and a group of businessmen and industrialists sponsoring the proposal.

SURVEYS PLANNED

A committee of the Southeastern Ohio council met last week with State Highway Director Earl Reeb, who indicated surveys will be made and that the highway would become an objective of the department.

Reeb told The News-Journal today that his department had been requested to give the present north-south route a single route number.

"The persons interested in this proposed superhighway want the present route numbered with the same number from the Ohio river to Mansfield as the first step. Their eventual objective is a superhighway from Ironton to the Great Lakes, presumably meaning Cleveland."

He added, however, that no mention was made of building a superhighway from Mansfield to Cleveland, and that he understands that U. S. Route 42 would serve for the remainder of the north-south route.

Clague Sees 2-Year Boom

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Commissioner Ewan Clague of the federal bureau of labor statistics thinks the country's current boom probably will last at least another year or two.

He told a meeting last night of the Northeastern Ohio Vocational Guidance association that a slackening off in the nation's economy is bound to arrive, but no depression is in sight.

The European recovery program, Clague asserted, will not boost prosperity, but by keeping exports at their 1947 level will serve as a "sustaining influence."

Six New Books For Children Listed By Public Library

Marjorie Hartwell's ANIMALS OF FRIENDLY FARM is one of the nicest picture books I have seen in a long time. Each page has a large picture, with a short sentence about the animals. The words tell what the animals do and the picture shows them doing it. You can look at each picture a dozen times and still see something new. For example, one picture shows the baby calves playing. You can look at the picture two or three times before you see that one of the calves is laughing at you. The turkey says he doesn't know why he is important. Do you?

FISH IN THE AIR by Kurt Wiese is a picture book with a real story. It would spoil your fun to know too much about the story but I'll give you a hint. A very small boy had a very BIG kite, and there was a big wind!

PETER PAINTS THE U. S. A. by Jean Colby and Arnold Bare is a fascinating book. I have spent a lot of time looking at it. My favorite picture is the one Peter painted in Boston because I love Boston. I like the desert ones too because I have never seen a desert. You can like it both ways too. You see, Peter and his family traveled all over the U. S. A and Peter, who is a little boy, painted pictures of the places they visited. If you have seen some of the places he painted you will get a thrill from the familiar: if you have not seen the real thing then you can feel interested in the unknown. In either case, don't miss it!

HOOSIER BOY: JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY by Minnie Belle Mitchell is another in the popular series of biographies of famous Americans. "Bud" was born in a log cabin in Indiana and, as a boy, did all the things you wish you could do-played in the deep woods, went to circuses, played hookey and generally got into trouble. You'll laugh about the time he took an axe and chopped pocket holes in his new pants.

A biography for older children, full of excitement, danger, action and drama is GALLANT GENERAL by Anton Gronowicz. It is the story of Andrej Tadeusz Bonawentura Kosciusko, or Baron Kosciusko. Those of you who have studied about the Revolutionary War have heard of him. Kosciusko was one of several European noblemen who believed in liberty and gave money, time, hard work, and sometimes their lives to help the early Americans win their freedom.

Kosciusko was a Pole, a wealthy nobleman, who became unpopular in his own country because he wanted freedom for the Polish peasants. Knowing that he could do little in Poland, and knowing that freedom for some helps freedom for all, he came to America and fought for Washington. His story is often sad, often discouraging, but it can help us see how much freedom and liberty have meant to other people, and should mean to us.

JUDITH OF FRANCE by Margaret Leighton is almost a biography, too. Judith was the very beautiful granddaughter of Charlemagne, first great king of France. There was a tradition that Judith's beauty would make brother fight brother, and son fight father: that because of her there would be intrigue, suspicion, and murder. Judith vowed that it should not be so, she promised herself and her God that she should never be the cause of fighting. How she kept that vow, even almost to the point of being killed herself, is an exciting, romantic story. Judith had two husbands, but gave her heart to Baudoin Bras-deFer. But Judith knew that queens have no right to love, and she did her duty, obeyed her father and tried to help France. Girls, you'll thrill to this girl, who, when she was little older than you, held the fate of two countries in her hands.

MRS. ERMA HOFFMAN

Mrs. Erma Hoffman of Columbus, Ohio Department President, Blue Star Mothers of America, Inc., will be in attendance for the sessions of the state convention which opens today at the Mansfield-Leland hotel. This is the fifth annual meeting of the organization, which was formed shortly after the outbreak of World War II. It is composed of mothers of those veterans.

Your Figure, Madam

Haven't you heard? Spring is coming . . . it's three weeks and a day away! In spring styles the waist is the center of attention, so find your waistline limit, then hew to that slender line.

There are several ways of figuring your proper waist size. Measurement charts allow 25 inches for five feet of height and one-half inch at the waist for each extra inch of height. The average woman 5'4" may have a 27-inch waistline . . . fair enough.

However, to include structural differences use a sliding rule . . . and allow 24 to 26 inches for the bahis five feet, and ½ inch difference for each extra inch. The slight girl has a sweet waist at 24 inches; the medium frame at 25 inches, and the stocky gal's waist is neat at 26 inches.

The accepted standard of the dress industry in misses sizes goes like this: 25 inches for size 12, 26½ inches for size 14, 28 inches for size 16, 30 inches for size 18 . . . that's far enough.

Now you know your waistline limit . . . let's stay easily within it. Today's waist trimmers will do the trick—and in time for spring.

First, a two-way stretch . . .

Position: Lying on back on floor, legs stretching down, arms stretching up.

Movement: Pull up with the arms, push down with the feet . . with a thoroughgoing both-ends-against-the-middle- measurement stretch. Relax . . . yawn . . . it's a nice releasing feeling, takes out all the kinks. Now s-t-r-e-t-c-h again, centering on the midsection. Relax and repeat a third time.

Now my favorite (skip this if you have any lower back weakness):

Position: Lying on back on floor, knees flexed, feet on floor, arms out at sides shoulder level.

Movement: Keeping knees together, twist gently at waist and slowly lower thighs to floor at one side until one thigh is on floor . . . pull up snugly with girdle muscles through the exercise and try to keep your back on the floor as much as possible to put the action smack on waistline muscles. Twist gently but firmly back to position, then to the other side. Repeat about six times, later 12.

Now . . a fast streamliner . .

Position: Standing on left knee, arms arched overhead, right leg stretched out directly sideward.

Movement: From this position bend sideward, easily . . . then bend to the other side . . . gracefully. Repeat six times, alternating sides. Increase the bend a bit more each day. Then let left hand drop down on floor for support, and stretching with the free hand, pull slim all along that side. Three times will do nicely. Stand on opposite knee and stretch along the other side.

If you wish more general exercise, send for "Spot Exercises for Symmetry," enclosing stamped, addressed envelope.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, May 1.

The forecast is for continuation of strange and complicated situations, with long-range consequences dependent upon rational and considerate conduct now, but the judgment has not cleared, and some fresh obstruction, block or stubborn obstacles seem to accent frustration and futility. An indomitable urge to "batter the ramparts," to ruthlessly tear away strange and inexplicable conditions, is not advised, although there is definite promise for attaining safe ground by means of compromise, conciliation, tact and finesse. A resort to spiritual or idealistic implements might prove triumphant.

For the Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves compelled to unravel certain curious and baffling situations, in which the final happy culmination depends upon the solidity, justness, and responsibility of present critical and complex affairs, and their wise management. Solve problems by tact, diplomacy, gracious yielding or finesse rather than by attempts to batter down all opposition and frustrations. The gentle approach, or resort to spiritual weapons of ideals, might spectacularly gain what force and fury could not attain. The situation is intriguing, dramatic, adventurous.

A child born on this day, may be said to find life a difficult "row to hoe," being torn two ways, by the drag of duty, responsibility, sanity, and wild and demanding impulses and emotions. But there are signs of spiritual aids in crises.

Serve Ham With Respect It Deserves

By ALICE DENHOFF

The cook who has a hand with ham is certainly in her element these days, for when she serves the dish with a flourish, it is accorded the respect it deserves, not only because of its goodness, but because today it is a rarity in many homes, due of course to cost.

A good combination any way you look at it is ham with honey. You'll find that it offers something in the way of a change, and that the two flavors blend perfectly.

Place a whole or half ham fat side up on the rack in an open roasting pan. Make an incision and insert a thermometer so that the center of the bulb reaches the largest muscle. Be sure that the bulb does not rest on either fat or bone. Do not cover and do not add water. Place in 300 F. oven and bake until done.

Just before the ham is done remove it from the oven and take off the rind, if this was not already done before the ham came from the market. Chop ½ c. maraschino cherries and mix with one c. strained honey. Pour this over the ham and return it to the oven to finish baking and acquire a beautiful glaze.

For another nice dish during the last hour of cooking, spread the ham with strained honey, lemon juice and a little lemon peel grated.

Baste three times with the lemon-honey mixture, keeping water in the pan to prevent burning. When the ham is removed, pour off any surplus fat, add some crushed pineapple and seedless raisins to the drippings. Cook these to a sauce and serve up with the ham.

For a nice left-over roast ham dish, chop the ham, heat in a double boiler, press into ramekins and unmold on the plate in a "nest" of scrambled eggs. How pretty it looks, especially when you add crisp corn sticks and tangy currant jelly. A good dish for brunch, luncheon or supper.

When the left-overs reveal "nuggets" of ham that refuse to slice, pop them into sandwich fixings. Grind the cooked ham, and to one cup of it, add a little vinegar, (ever so little tbsp. peanut butter and some chopped celery.

One Egg—One Bowl Cake

The following recipe is economical and easy to make for these busy spring days.

Sift into a bowl 2 cups sifted cake flour, 2½ teaspoons baking powder, 1¼ cups sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, add ⅓ cup shortening, ¾ cup milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract.

Beat 2 minutes by hand (300 strokes) or 2 minutes in electric mixer at slow to medium speed. Scrape bowl often. Add 1 egg, unbeaten. Beat 1 minute longer by hand (150 strokes) or 1 minute in electric mixer at slow to medium speed. Pour into greased 8-inch square pan. Bake in moderate oven at 350 degrees F., for 50 minutes.

Auxiliary Convenes

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's auxiliary to the National Federation of Post Office Clerks, Local No. 903, was conducted Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Henry W. McClary, 95 Stewart avenue. The president, Mrs. William Martin, presided. A contribution was set aside for the American Cancer society. Contests were conducted during the social part of the evening.

Lost Over 1 Lb. a Day With Rennel Says Dayton Lady

"I find Rennel Concentrate the best reducer yet," writes Glena Fitzwater, 16 Shaw Ave., Dayton, Ohio. "I have taken several other products for reducing but have had no success. With Rennel I have lost 15 lbs. in just 2 weeks and ate everything. I felt fine while taking Rennel and so much better now that I have lost some weight."

Hundreds of others have obtained similar relief from the social and physical discomfort of being overweight. Rennel is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off ugly fat. It's simple Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Rennel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves—if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles; just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Rennel—no starvation diet—no printed diet list to buy—no vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry. Don't be switched to another product. Insist on and obtain genuine Rennel.

Versatility Needed By Job Seekers

Job Changes Often Necessary

CLEVELAND—(UP)—The person who wants to "get ahead" in the United States "will have to learn to watch employment trends . . . and be able to jump from one occupation to another," an official of the U.S. Department of Labor said today.

"Occupations are changing very rapidly," Ewan Clague, commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics, said. "Some are becoming obsolete. Others which never existed before are as rapidly becoming important.

"It is no longer possible to decide as a young man to be a carpenter, for example, to train for it and be all set at the age of 21 for the rest of your life. The more jobs a person can do the better off he will be."

Here to talk to the employment counselors of the Cleveland Board of Education and to the Northeastern Ohio Vocational Guidance association, the Department of Labor official said public schools may someday find they are not through with their pupils at the age of 16 or 18. They may have to retrain people of 40, as they do now in special adult night courses, he added.

Brazil's Communist Leader Still Remains In Hiding

RIO DE JANEIRO—(AP)—Where is Luis Carlos Prestes? The disappearance of the small, shrewd Brazilian communist leader is troubling this country.

Prestes, organizer of the largest Communist party (180,000 members) in the western hemisphere, has not been seen in public since last November.

Federal police claim they know where he is, but he was not brought in during the recent roundup of communist leaders for questioning in connection with widespread incidents officially called sabotage.

Nearly 500 communists were arrested throughout Brazil. Among the charges against them were instigation of the explosion of an army arsenal here in which 24 were killed and nearly 200 injured, explosions in coal mines, burning of an army barracks, strikes and railway sabotage.

Brazil is openly at war on communism. It already has outlawed the party, broken relations with Russia, closed many communist papers and expelled party members, including ex-Senator Prestes, from all legislative bodies.

Area Alert For Firebug

LUKE, Md.—(AP)—Police in this mountain area are seeking a firebug who uses explosive powder as his "torch."

At least 12 properties have been damaged by incendiary fires since a supply of explosives disappeared from a mine near here. One blaze did $10,000 damage.

Each of the fires started out with the thick, black smoke common to burning powder.

An explosive powder stick was found Sunday in the control room of the local water tower. Two similar sticks were uncovered last Friday on the property of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company plant here.

Burza Hanlin, chief of police at nearby Westernport, said all the fires have been started since 100 sticks of explosive powder and a similar number of dynamite sticks, fuses and caps were stolen from a Westernport mine operator three months ago.

The Eastern Townships Grown In Quebec's Tourist Picture

QUEBEC, P.Q.—(1948)—In a day and age when it is smart to find something or some place that is new and different, a growing number of smug expressions are found upon faces of vacation-seekers on the Eastern portions of this continent. We refer to those who have "discovered" the Eastern Townships of the Province of Quebec. Ranging between the American border and the St. Lawrence river, 75 miles from the humming metropolis of Canada, Montreal, by smooth scenic highway, this newly-developed year 'round region of sport and relaxation has sprung up to rival the most popular centers of a Province, already internationally famous as rendezvous for thousands of American visitors each year. The Eastern Townships offer a more informal, yet thoroughly charming set of hotels and pensions, where vacationers find everything from fascinating mountains with their glistening trout streams to fine hunting grounds, abounding in deer and game birds. Around the fast-growing resorts which cluster close to the up-and-coming city of Sherbrooke, North Hatley, and the Hillcrest development, all forms of sport and recreation beckon the visitor. Bridle paths, good golf courses, tennis, all set in a hardwood forest region amid exhilerating surroundings, offer a unique charm all their own. Sprinkled through the Eastern Townships are such famous communities of resort interest as Magog, Knowlton, Orford Lake. Here deep mountain lakes offer the finest fishing and general outdoor life. Moreover the unsullied atmosphere, in no way spoiled by any air of commercialism, may be enjoyed at moderate cost as compared with similar facilities found elsewhere. Already famous as a summer retreat, the past few years has seen the opening of this area, situated almost due East from Montreal, as one of the top ski centers in Canada. Now the argument continues to range between those who regard Quebec Eastern Townships as more enthralling in summer or in winter. Those who have spent time here in both seasons agree, in the final analysis, that the hospitality and beauty of this mountain-studded portion of the old French-Canadian Province just about "saw off," depending upon one's inclination toward the ski or the fly rod and hunting piece. All indications point to a record year here as the 1948 spring fishing looms in the brilliant Canadian month of May.

Easily accessible to most of the key centers of the U.S.A.'s East, "The Townships" continue to assume an ever-increasing importance in Quebec's biggest industry—the job of playing host to the largest international vacation migration taking place annually in the world.—Adv.

Situation Creates Military Problem

By WALTER LIPPMANN

IN A VALIANT effort to make intelligible what the Army and Navy Register has called a "welter of confused recommendations," Hanson W. Baldwin mentioned uncertainty as to whether the emergency, which Mr. Truman described in his St. Patrick's day message, is "short term or long term."

This is, I think, the chief explanation of the Forrestal-Symington, the Air Force-UMT draft controversy and confusion.

The Pentagon, having received no clear directive from the president as to whether to prepare for a near or a distant military showdown, finds itself trying to guess what the Russians intend to do.

But since the Pentagon cannot be sure that it is guessing right it is but natural that it should be divided and confused.

So Secretary Symington and his constituents in the House of Representatives want to prepare for war in 1952, the theoretical date when they have decided to think the Russians will have atomic bombs. The orthodox sponsors of UMT are also trying to get ready for a theoretical war several years hence.

Secretary Forrestal is trying to "balance" the conflicting pressures (so far as one can judge) on the theory that we ought to prepare a little for all the different possibilities.

CHANGE IN SITUATION

But if we ask ourselves why we have been discussing extra military measures since the middle of March, the answer must surely be that in the judgment of the administration there has been a change in the international situation since the events in Czechoslovakia, Finland, Berlin and Vienna.

This was also the judgment of the western powers of Europe, otherwise they would not so hastily have signed the Brussels alliance.

EMERGENCY NEAR

What does this all add up to? It adds up to the judgment that the emergency is now and near—that this is the critical period, that if there is to be a showdown it will not be when Symington has the perfect jet-propelled air force of 1952, and when the UMT enthusiasts have a great trained reserve some years hence, and when Great Britain and France have recovered under the Marshall Plan and are rearmed in the distant future.

If all the governments of western Europe and our own have not been having an unnecessary fit of nerves, this is in truth the critical period. What will count is the military power which can be mobilized at once, and developed at once, so that there may be a force in being.

Our paramount need, then, is not "preparedness" for a theoretical M-day but a mobilization of what we have and can quickly produce.

That this is the critical period might have been debatable before the Truman message and the Brussels pact. It is not debatable now.

For while it could have been argued in March, though wrongly it seems to me, that the Czechoslovakian and Finnish actions were merely the cold war and not the opening of a military phase, our own actions—whatever the original Russian intentions—have changed the situation.

Our decision to rearm and to support a military alliance in Europe would be in the highest degree reckless and irresponsible if we did not now act on the assumption that the Russians will do something drastic before a long program of rearmament can be completed.

It is simply inconceivable that they will remain passive, waging only a cold war while Symington gets ready to exterminate them with atomic bombs in 1952. Therefore, the adoption of his program under present circumstances would on any prudent calculation provoke countermeasures for which, having invested everything in the Symington program and Symington strategy, we should be unprepared.

POLICY UNSAFE

It is not safe to threaten Russia with destruction in 1952, leaving Europe undefended in the meantime. The only safe and wise thing to do is to mobilize at once a defensive and a deterrent force for the support of Europe.

If we decide to do that, the welter of confused recommendations from the Pentagon may be replaced by a coherent military program. With such a program the state department will be in a position to clarify its own policies.

It will be able to give the western union the only kind of guaranty that means anything — a guaranty that we are determined to defend it against invasion.

The state department will also be in a position to be firm with Russia without appearing provocative to all Russians and to most Europeans.

For it will then be able to say concretely to the Kremlin that we are preparing for war if they attack, but that we are not preparing to attack them; that we are redressing the balance of power which is upset because they are in the middle of a defenseless continent, and that on the basis of this defensive military stalemate we look forward eventually to a negotiated settlement, not to a war, in which Europe will become the buffer between us, not the battlefield on which all of us destroy each other.

Versatility Needed By Job Seekers

Job Changes Often Necessary

CLEVELAND—(UP)—The person who wants to "get ahead" in the United States "will have to learn to watch employment trends . . . and be able to jump from one occupation to another," an official of the U.S. Department of Labor said today.

"Occupations are changing very rapidly," Ewan Clague, commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics, said. "Some are becoming obsolete. Others which never existed before are as rapidly becoming important.

"It is no longer possible to decide as a young man to be a carpenter, for example, to train for it and be all set at the age of 21 for the rest of your life. The more jobs a person can do the better off he will be."

Here to talk to the employment counselors of the Cleveland Board of Education and to the Northeastern Ohio Vocational Guidance association, the Department of Labor official said public schools may someday find they are not through with their pupils at the age of 16 or 18. They may have to retrain people of 40, as they do now in special adult night courses, he added.

Brazil's Communist Leader Still Remains In Hiding

RIO DE JANEIRO—(AP)—Where is Luis Carlos Prestes? The disappearance of the small, shrewd Brazilian communist leader is troubling this country.

Prestes, organizer of the largest Communist party (180,000 members) in the western hemisphere, has not been seen in public since last November.

Federal police claim they know where he is, but he was not brought in during the recent roundup of communist leaders for questioning in connection with widespread incidents officially called sabotage.

Nearly 500 communists were arrested throughout Brazil. Among the charges against them were instigation of the explosion of an army arsenal here in which 24 were killed and nearly 200 injured, explosions in coal mines, burning of an army barracks, strikes and railway sabotage.

Area Alert For Firebug

LUKE, Md.—(AP)—Police in this mountain area are seeking a firebug who uses explosive powder as his "torch."

At least 12 properties have been damaged by incendiary fires since a supply of explosives disappeared from a mine near here. One blaze did $10,000 damage.

Each of the fires started out with the thick, black smoke common to burning powder.

An explosive powder stick was found Sunday in the control room of the local water tower. Two similar sticks were uncovered last Friday on the property of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company plant here.

Burza Hanlin, chief of police at nearby Westernport, said all the fires have been started since 100 sticks of explosive powder and a similar number of dynamite sticks, fuses and caps were stolen from a Westernport mine operator three months ago.

The Eastern Townships Grown In Quebec's Tourist Picture

QUEBEC, P.Q.—(1948)—In a day and age when it is smart to find something or some place that is new and different, a growing number of smug expressions are found upon faces of vacation-seekers on the Eastern portions of this continent. We refer to those who have "discovered" the Eastern Townships of the Province of Quebec. Ranging between the American border and the St. Lawrence river, 75 miles from the humming metropolis of Canada, Montreal, by smooth scenic highway, this newly-developed year 'round region of sport and relaxation has sprung up to rival the most popular centers of a Province, already internationally famous as rendezvous for thousands of American visitors each year. The Eastern Townships offer a more informal, yet thoroughly charming set of hotels and pensions, where vacationers find everything from fascinating mountains with their glistening trout streams to fine hunting grounds, abounding in deer and game birds. Around the fast-growing resorts which cluster close to the up-and-coming city of Sherbrooke, North Hatley, and the Hillcrest development, all forms of sport and recreation beckon the visitor. Bridle paths, good golf courses, tennis, all set in a hardwood forest region amid exhilerating surroundings, offer a unique charm all their own. Sprinkled through the Eastern Townships are such famous communities of resort interest as Magog, Knowlton, Orford Lake. Here deep mountain lakes offer the finest fishing and general outdoor life. Moreover the unsullied atmosphere, in no way spoiled by any air of commercialism, may be enjoyed at moderate cost as compared with similar facilities found elsewhere. Already famous as a summer retreat, the past few years has seen the opening of this area, situated almost due East from Montreal, as one of the top ski centers in Canada. Now the argument continues to range between those who regard Quebec Eastern Townships as more enthralling in summer or in winter. Those who have spent time here in both seasons agree, in the final analysis, that the hospitality and beauty of this mountain-studded portion of the old French-Canadian Province just about "saw off," depending upon one's inclination toward the ski or the fly rod and hunting piece. All indications point to a record year here as the 1948 spring fishing looms in the brilliant Canadian month of May.

Easily accessible to most of the key centers of the U.S.A.'s East, "The Townships" continue to assume an ever-increasing importance in Quebec's biggest industry —the job of playing host to the largest international vacation migration taking place annually in the world.—Adv.

Brazil is openly at war on communism. It already has outlawed the party, broken relations with Russia, closed many communist papers and expelled party members, including ex-Senator Prestes, from all legislative bodies.

POLICY UNSAFE

It is not safe to threaten Russia with destruction in 1952, leaving Europe undefended in the meantime. The only safe and wise thing to do is to mobilize at once a defensive and a deterrent force for the support of Europe.

If we decide to do that, the welter of confused recommendations from the Pentagon may be replaced by a coherent military program. With such a program the state department will be in a position to clarify its own policies.

It will be able to give the western union the only kind of guaranty that means anything — a guaranty that we are determined to defend it against invasion.

The state department will also be in a position to be firm with Russia without appearing provocative to all Russians and to most Europeans.

For it will then be able to say concretely to the Kremlin that we are preparing for war if they attack, but that we are not preparing to attack them; that we are redressing the balance of power which is upset because they are in the middle of a defenseless continent, and that on the basis of this defensive military stalemate we look forward eventually to a negotiated settlement, not to a war, in which Europe will become the bufter between us, not the battlefield on which all of us destroy each other.

Taft Claims Stassen Has No Chance

Flatly Predicts Rival's Defeat

TOLEDO—(U.P.)—Sen. Robert A. Taft flatly predicted yesterday afternoon that former Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota would not be the 1948 Republican presidential nominee.

Taft, who earlier foresaw a victory of his candidacy over Stassen in the Ohio May 4 primary, said he would continue his campaign trips into about one state a week after Ohio's balloting.

Taft said he would visit Wisconsin on May 8, Hartford, Conn., May 18, and New Jersey about May 19 to seek additional delegates to the Republican national convention.

When it was pointed out at Taft's press conference that the delegates in Wisconsin were already chosen, the Ohio senator said he wanted second choices.

"I want second choices from all delegates. I think we have a very friendly position in Minnesota as soon as Stassen is out of it. He will be out of it, don't worry," Taft said.

The presidential favorite son from Ohio said that although primaries have a moral effect on the national convention "I wouldn't say they have great influence in determining the result."

He said that talk that anyone could be elected on the Republican ticket was "very dangerous." He said the Republicans "must present their case, the issues and program if they expect to win."

Senator Taft, speaking on the Ohio election Tuesday, said "I am not conceding anything nor am I making any more than general claims of success.

"I don't regard Pennsylvania's primary results as very important," Taft said. "I understand that about 20 to 25 per cent of the voters in the primary wrote in names. Stassen's vote was an organization vote from an organization campaign."

The senator pointed out that Stassen had the only organized effort in the state to obtain write-in votes. He said the results showed "only that Stassen has an enthusiastic minority in favor of him."

Sergeant Refuses to Give Up Steamer to Russians

VIENNA —(U.P.)— The U. S. Army reported last night that the Russians tried to take over an American-leased Danube pleasure steamer which ran aground near Linz, but were thwarted by the sergeant who was in charge of the craft.

The armed Russians threatened to blow up the vessel and to shoot the American flag off the mast if it were not lowered, headquarters reported.

Sgt. Frank Bruschel of Aurora, Ill., and the fourth constabulary battalion refused calmly but firmly to give up command of the ship, the Army said. He kept the Soviet troops at bay for more than 16 hours until other craft came to the rescue.

Derby Field to Be Smallest In Half Century

4 Horses Challenge Calumet Entry

By LAWTON CARVER, INS Sports Editor

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—The smallest Kentucky Derby field in nearly a half century seemed assured today as trainers entered an expected six starters for tomorrow's renewal of the nation's biggest and most revered horse race.

A $100,000 purse, a whooping, hollering crowd of 100,000 and the glamour of the occasion at Churchill Downs were not enough to attract more than a half dozen three-year-olds for the 74th renewal of America's greatest racing spectacle.

All else was offset by the fact that Calumet Farm's now famed entry of Citation and Coaltown, were in the event, and when formal entry began at 7 a. m., today the field appeared to be:

Citation, Jockey Eddie Arcaro; Coaltown, Jockey N. L. Pierson; B. F. Whitaker's My Request, Jockey Doug Dodson; W. L. Brann's Escadru, Jockey Arnold Kirkland; Walmac Farm's Billings, Jockey Mel Peterson; Mrs. John Payson Adams' Grandpere, Jockey Johnny Gilbert.

REQUEST GIVEN CHANCE

The Calumet entry was regarded as a 1 to 10 shot to win, and many expected them to bounce in one-two. My Request was given a slim outside chance to win or to split the entry. Escadru will get some backing if the track is muddy.

Billings and Grandpere are such rank outsiders that a vast majority of the spectators will never even get around to realizing they are in the mile and a quarter race.

No others are expected to be named, and the big question seemed to be whether some of the owners of the horses pitted against Citation and Coaltown will suffer an attack of last minute cold feet and withdraw.

Scratches are acceptable up to 45 minutes of post time, which will be 4:28 p. m. (CST) tomorrow.

AFTER SMALL MONEY

Each owner, however, reiterated staunchly an intent to run for that top prize of approximately $80,000 or the lesser prizes which are also there to be picked up.

The second horse will earn $10,000; third horse, $5,000, and the fourth horse, $2,500, leaving only two to be shut out if six go.

The cost of starting is $1,000, which would seem to make it a good gamble for such a small field.

This situation was part of the generally unique picture which will see the winner—if Citation or Coaltown—pay the shortest price in the history of the event. It also will see the winning jockey, if it is Arcaro aboard Citation, give his end of the purse away and see the track fumble with a minus pool.

The shortest price ever paid by a Derby winner was Count Fleet's 2 to 5—or $2.80—in 1943.

Arcaro will donate his purse, if he wins, to the widow of Al Snider, the little rider who was slated to ride Citation, but who was drowned in Florida.

Aside from all that, the general assumption is that the Calumet entry's price will not be affected by track conditions.

Trainer Ben Jones said:

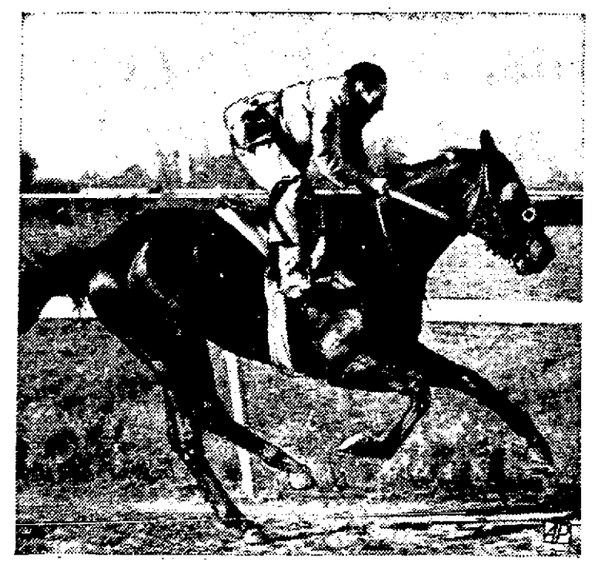
HAS WON IN MUD

"Citation has won in the mud, and I don't think the track will make any difference to him."

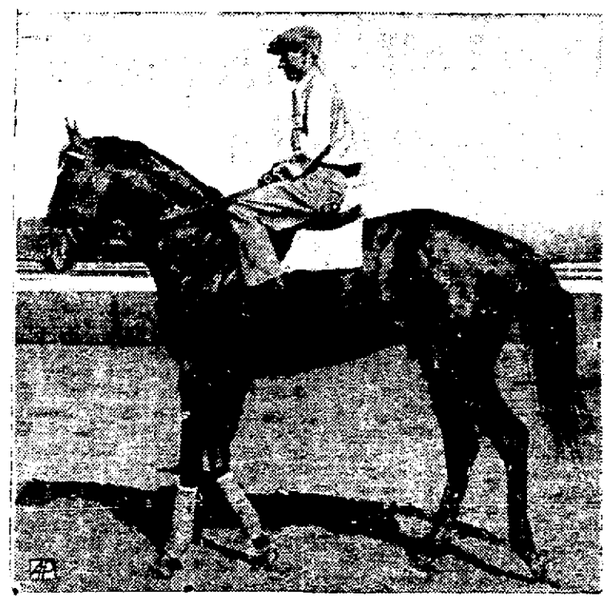
The veteran Calumet trainer said he didn't know about Coaltown's preferences as to track conditions, but he wasn't worried about this half of the entry even if a snowstorm comes up.

The trainers of the other probable starters all were convinced that their charges would go just as well against the entry in mud as on a fast track.

They, however, gave the impression that they were in the race mainly with a hope of getting that $10,000 second money, and mud or fast track would not be disappointed over a defeat.



COALTOWN, CO-FAVORITE . . . Jockey Leroy Pearson



MY REQUEST, HAS A CHANCE . . . Jockey Doug Dodson

Bobby Locks Tops Open Golf Field

LANDOVER, Md. —(UP)— Bobby Locke, thanks to his magic home-fashioned putter, was two strokes ahead of the field in the $15,000 capitol open golf tournament today as the blue-ribbon field started the second round.

Locke, the No. 2 money-winner of the current golfing season, shot a seven-under-par 65 yesterday, only two strokes off the Prince Georges course record set last year by Ed Furgol of Pontiac, Mich.

Floyd Messmore Gets 632 Series In ABC Tournament

DETROIT—Mansfield pin topplers failed to disturb the high 10 leaders in the American Bowling Congress tourney here but several totals were chalked up by the Ohioans which will qualify in the extensive $500,000 prize fund.

Safety Cabs came in with 2633 in the team event while Bob Lynch and Art Hilborn teamed to hit 1108 for the best doubles tally.

Floyd Messmore fired a 632 in singles—sixth high among the 400 keglers scheduled in Thursday's singles card. Messmore had 243-204-185. John Hanrahan hit a pay check $595.

Local Shooters Set Handicaps For Vandalia

Trapshooters from most of the Mansfield vicinity will participate May 29-30 in a shoot to establish their handicaps for the grand national at Vandalia.

The shoot, to be held at the Mansfield Gun club, is expected to attract more than 100 shooters, C. M. Matthes reported today.

Shooters will fire 150 shots from 16 yards on May 29 and 150 from their handicap distances May 30. A total of 500 shots in registered shoots from each distance is required to establish handicaps for the grand national.

An indication that Mansfield area shooters might figure prominently in the Vandalia event came last Sunday when 14 squads took part in a shoot at the club.

Ralph Vogel, 22-year-old Willard youth, surprised the old timers by defeating A. F. Kraft of Massillon in the handicap. Vogel broke 49 of 50; Kraft 48.

In the 16-yard event, however, Kraft broke 50 straight targets. Three shooters tied for second with 49 of 50—Ray G. McCarty, Plymouth; J. R. Atland, Navarre, and Russell Heston, Mansfield.

Funston Gets 1,709 Pins In Elks Tourney

A total score of 1,709 piled up in single, doubles and team competition gave Eugene Funston the best all-events score among Mansfield bowlers rolling in the sixth annual State Elks tournament in Lima. Funston was second in actual pins with 582 and rolled with Harold Selby to pile up the leading net doubles score—a 1,111. He shot a 566 while roling with the runnerup Heads in team competition.

The Ears led local teams with a 3,007 total, including handicap. Cliff Heaton and Mayor Roy Vaughn had the best handicap doubles score a 1257, while Leo Yuncker paced singles with a 606 net although his 666 score was three pins under that of C. A. Roby who had a 570.

Behind Funston in all-eevnts totals were Art Hilborn, 1698; Yuncker, 1656 and Chuck Roby, 1612. None of the local teams placed high in the state meet.

'Players Make All Money In Pro Grid'

By CHARLES EINSTEIN, INS Sports Writer

CHICAGO—"The players make all the money in pro football today."

These words from Curley Lambeau, boss man of the Green Bay Packers and one of the pioneers of professional football . . . an embittered Lambeau who sat down the other day to watch veteran Halfback Tony Canadeo reject his contract offer and storm out of the room, a holdout.

"Last year," he admits, "the Packers did a little better than break even, but it was accomplished by cutting operating expenses, not salaries. However, our profit on the year's operation wasn't as much as the increase some of the players are asking!"

Only four—maybe five—teams in the two big leagues of football, the National and All-America, made money last year, Lambeau says. Thirteen others lost it "in the millions."

"But of course all the players got paid," Lambeau recollects. "And now they are turning down contracts for four months' work that call for more money than a competent executive—not to mention some of the top coaches of the country—can earn in the entire year."

HONEYMOON IS OVER

The answer to all this, Lambeau feels, is a stabilization of salaries, based on the law of supply and demand. He argues that "the honeymoon is over. There is plenty of talent for all teams."

Since 1939, Lambeau states, "living costs have gone up 100 per cent and the national wage scale has increased 89 per cent—but professional football salaries have increased nearly 400 per cent and in some cases many times more.

"Club executives took cuts or held the line to weather the financial storm in pro football, but the players' salaries continued to skyrocket. Clubs and club owners no longer can stand the strain."

With more than a trace of sadness, Lambeau recalls that two of the game's all-time greats, Don Hutson of the Packers and Bronko Nagurski of the Chicago Bears, started at $175 a game. Then he says:

"But now, the situation is too cockeyed to be sound. Men along in years, almost ready to retire, have put their savings into professional football and gone broke. But the players got theirs.

"Readjustment is imperative and inevitable."

Ernie Lombardi Joins Sacramento

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — (AP) — Ernie Lombardi is back with Sacramento of the Pacific Coast league after changing his mind on retiring from baseball.

"The Nose" asked Monday for voluntary retirement so he could be near his wife, ill in an Oakland hospital. She underwent a successful operation Wednesday. Today the slugging catcher said he will finish out his first year away from the majors.

Old Valet Prays For Lucky Draw

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—(UP)—A little while before they bring the horses out to run for the roses here Saturday afternoon, an elderly Negro man down in the stables will be praying for a lucky draw that would put him in a class by himself as far as handling Kentucky Derby winners goes.

He is Mack Maupin of Lexington, Ky., who has saddled four winners and hopes that when he draws the number of the Derby horse he will serve as valet, he gets the winner's number. The Derby valets draw lots for the horses they will serve.

Maupin first saddled a winner in 1907 when Pink Star won. Two years later he saddled Wintergreen, which galloped home in front. Then he had a 32-year wait before putting the saddle on another winner, this time Whirlaway. And a year after that, in 1942, he saddled the victorious Shut Out.

Saddling a winner Saturday would put him in a class by himself. Already, Mack believes, he deserves recognition with the late Col. E. R. Bradley, who owned four Derby winners; H. J. (Derby Dick) Thompson, who trained four; A. J. Alexander of Woodford county, Kentucky, who bred or was co-breeder of four, and Ike Murphy, Negro jockey who rode four into the winner's circle.

Mack has had one place and two show horses in Col. Matt Winn's classic. In 1926 he saddled Bagenbaggage, which finished second, and in 1911 he saddled Colston and in 1913 Gowell, both third-placers.

Those Derby winners, however, have not been the favorites of the elderly Negro who started out with horses as an exercise boy, before age changed him to a valet.

His favorites were Exterminator, winner of the 1918 Derby, and Fitzherbert, a great stake horse. He saddled Exterminator at Latonia when "Old Bones" won his first race.

Which horse does Mack want to saddle Saturday?

Well, he would feel happy with either of the Calumet Farm horses—Citation or Coaltown.

Secretary of State George C. Marshall, while Chief of Staff of the U. S. Army, dedicated Rising Sun Tavern at Fredericksburg, Virginia, as a national historic shrine. SCENERY PLUS SPORT—Vacationer tries his luck on Lake Takhlakh, Columbus National Forest, in Washington.

Want a Cabin In the Wildwoods?

Uncle Sam Will Rent Site In Forest

By RALPH GUYETTE

WASHINGTON—If your search for a vacation cottage has been unsuccessful because of high costs and increased demand for such spots, why not try the National Forest nearest your home?

There is one, or maybe several, within a few hours or, at the most, a day's drive from any spot in the nation.

By applying to the forest supervisor of a National Forest you will have the opportunity of selecting a vacation spot so beautiful and so rife with recreational possibilities that it will take your breath away.

A special use permit, renewable from year to year, will be issued to you for an annual fee of from $15 to $25. This will entitle you to the use of a plot of land one-quarter to one-half an acre in size. You won't own it, but you can vacation on it so long as you observe a few reasonable rules.

★

The design and construction of your cottage must meet minimum standards specified by the Forest Service, and simple construction plans must be submitted for approval before construction may be started.

The use permit will also specify certain minimum standards regarding sanitary facilities, forest fire prevention and a few other special instructions.

In some areas the forest supervisor will allow you to cut your own timber for building. By so doing you can build a log cabin at a cost far below that of a finished-lumber building.

Most sites are served by a simple spring water system installed by the Forest Service and are reached by forest roads that connect with improved highways.

These summer home areas are available on all the National Forests except the Green Mountain and White Mountain National Forests in Vermont and New Hampshire.

★

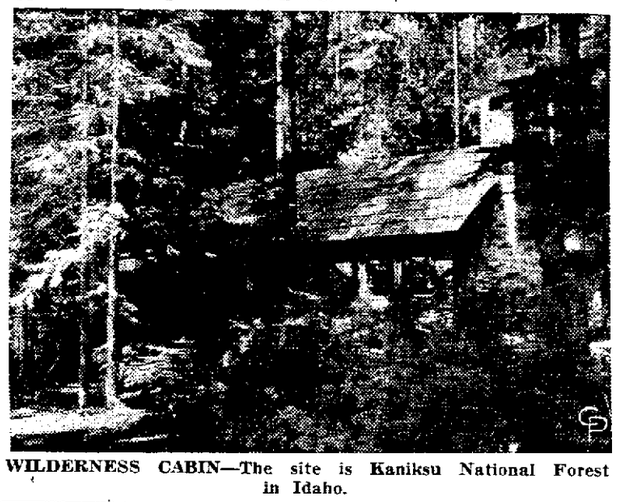
There are 154 National Forests in this country and these cover about 179,000,000 acres. Extending all the way from the southern Rockies in New Mexico to the spruce forests of the White Mountains in New England, these huge tracts of land include a third of the nation's remaining sawtimber.

★

Free facilities include tables and benches, stove or masonry fireplaces, garbage receptacles, approved drinking water and, in some places, beaches with lifeguards, diving boards, bathhouses, parking areas, and community shelters.

Campground accommodations in these forests are sufficient to care for as many as 240,000 people at one time.

Already, 13,000 permanent summer homes have been built in National Forests. If you want to do the same, contact the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture in Washington, D. C.



WILDERNESS CABIN—The site is Kaniksu National Forest in Idaho.

PASS PUPILS — OR ELSE—Defiant is the look of Brooklyn, N. Y., mathematics teacher Margaret Jokiel, 24, over anonymous threats. First she heard on her telephone, "If you don't pass everyone in mathematics tomorrow something will happen." Then something did—a car went by the Jokiel home and 35 rifle bullets slammed into the empty living room. So Miss Jokiel's uncle, Police Sgt. George Noell, went to classes with her.

Today's Quiz On Cancer

Q—How does my contribution help fight cancer

A—By educating the public. All the tools of service and all the knowledge of research are of no avail unless the public is aroused to the personal threat of cancer. For years science has been hampered by the "taboo of silence"—the cloak of fear and ignorance which is cancer's greatest ally. Everyone, everywhere, must learn that delay can cause as high as 35 per cent of all cancer deaths. Everyone must learn cancer's danger signals and what to do when cancer is suspected.
